These Questions Concerning Vice Should be Answered!

(AN EDITORIAL)

Will the investigation into the county's vice and gambling collapse? Or will solid action result?

These are the questions being asked today. Carefully weighing statements and actions of the investigators, observers predict that the inquiry may very well fizzle out next week.

If the investigation folds up, it will be in the face of important questions that have been raised since the California Attorney General's office began the inquiry last April.

Questions, facts, rumors, statements, have been tossed around for weeks. These are the basis for the questions that should be resolved. Here are the questions:

Was a house of prostitution permitted to operate on Balfour Road in the Brentwood area with the knowledge of the sheriff's office? Were there any pay offs?

(These and other questions will be asked Lucille "French Peggy" Taylor, alleged operator of the house. See other story. One sheriff's deputy has been quoted in The Sun as having reported the house as early as April and as late as June.)

Why has the California Attorney General found it necessary to hold a hearing into the adequacy of law enforcement furnished by the Contra Costa sheriff's office? What were the results of the hearing?

Why has the Attorney General's Clarence Linn said that they have had "absolutely" no cooperation at any time from the sheriff's office?

Why was a list of the county's pin ball distributors given to Raymond Van Tassell last January by the sheriff's office and with the knowledge of Sheriff Walter Young?

Were these operators asked to "contribute" or to buy tickets to a sheriff's fund raising event scheduled (but never held) at Diablo Country Club? Or what was the purpose of the "contribution?" If so, how much and to whom did they "contribute?" Where did these funds go?

Have contributions been solicited from others for the sheriff or for the County Improvement League by representatives of the sheriff or of the League?

Has the County Improvement League submitted a bill to Sheriff Young for services amounting to several thousand dollars? Were these services rendered by Van Tassell? What were the services?

Has Sheriff Young acknowledged this debt? Has he made a payment on this bill by check?

Is the County Improvement League still operating? Who organized it? Who are its directors? What are its purposes? Who gave legal advice for its incorporation?

Has the Grand Jury inspected the League's records? If so, were the records complete? If not, what attempt has been made to obtain all the records?

Was a list of all the sheriff's personnel turned over to the League or to Van Tassell? If so, why? For what purpose?

Was the League given permission to use the official seal of California, plus a badge, on its stationery?

How long did professional gamblers operate at Molino's Midway Club outside of Concord? Were they part of an organized group? Why didn't the sheriff's vice squad make any arrests? Why did Concord Chief of Police, Ron Orin, report this gambling to the district attorney rather than to the sheriff?

Why hasn't the restaurant owner, Henry Molino, been called before the Grand Jury?

What can be done to bring back Marvin Timberlake to testify about this gambling?

Why did the district attorney's office delay taking court action against French Peggy and Timberlake?

(Both had refused to testify. Over two weeks ago the district attorney said he would bring them into court, offer them immunity and force them to testify. French Peggy is scheduled for court today. Timberlake is reported in Nevada and probably cannot be extradited.)

Have multiple play pin ball machines been operating illegally and with over-the-bar pay off to customers? If so, why have no arrests been made?

Will the sheriff's reorganization of his vice control squad be effective? Why has he ordered his men in the vice detail to remain in uniform and drive a marked sheriff's car?

Did anyone in authority okay the gambling-girlee smoker near Walnut Creek? Why hasn't the elected, law enforcement official, Constable Manuel Nunes, who was the ticket taker, been asked to appear before the Grand Jury? Ditto the three deputies who parked cars in uniform outside the smoker? Are the funds from the smoker accounted for?

Was the sheriff offered a bribe for gambling concessions, as well as the district attorney?

(Tuesday Charles Cooper was indicted for allegedly offering $150,000 to Nejedly to permit gambling. Was the offer also made to Sheriff Young? Full details of this question should be revealed at Cooper's trial.)

It is the responsibility of the grand jury, the district attorney and the California Attorney General to continue the inquiry until all facts are known and then take whatever action is deemed necessary.

Country Club, Homes Will Be Developed

Oakland Realtors Buy 357 Acres from EBMUD

By LARRY GLAZIER

An Oakland realty firm has purchased 356.57 acres of land in the Orinda area from the East Bay Municipal Utility District and plans to construct a home and country club development on the property.

Significance of the sale is the location of the land and its proximity to the Sleepy Hollow region, which is now in the throes of an incorporation movement.

THE LARGE PARCEL of land, referred to as the Blum-Levy property, is situated between Sleepy Hollow and Upper Happy Valley, north of the freeway, and it is adjacent to Sleepy Hollow at the east end of Lombardy Lane.

EBMUD officials, anxious to get the property back on the tax rolls, determined that the land is surplus to the district's needs, and will always be surplus.

They put the matter to a public auction earlier this month, at which six bidders were present and offered bids, in increments of $500, from $460,000 to $485,000.

LAST FRIDAY DISTRICT directors voted to accept the high bid of Ed A. Friedland, representing the John Hermann Co. of Oakland.

Friedland, who called the site "the last piece of nice land left in the area," said his firm plans to construct 150 executive-type homes on the hillier portions of the property—some of which reaches grades of 40 per cent—and a country club, complete with golf course, swimming pool and tennis courts, on the leveler portions.

He admitted the development will be expensive and will require the ironing out of several problems, such as sewage and drainage, but he reported it is in the engineering stages now, and the firm probably will have plans for the country club ready in about 30 days.

The realtor added that his firm will seek proper zoning of the land, which at persent is unzoned.

IT WAS THE possibility of such a development on the Blum-Levy land which hastened the Sleepy Hollow incorporation move after the county planning commission proposed the expansion and extension of Lombardy Lane and Washington Lane in the Hollow to through traffic.

Fred Rust, one of the incorporation members, said, "We felt that any prospective purchasers of the land should be made aware of the Sleepy Hollow intentions."

The incorporation move — now in the petition stage — is being proposed in order to retain Lombardy Lane as the only access road into and out of the Hollow.

Moraga Zoning Ordinance Topic Of Public Meet

The Moraga zoning ordinance will be the subject of a public hearing before the county planning commission at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

A number of different zoning categories, based on the General Plan for the Moraga Area, which was adopted several years ago, will be discussed and acted upon.

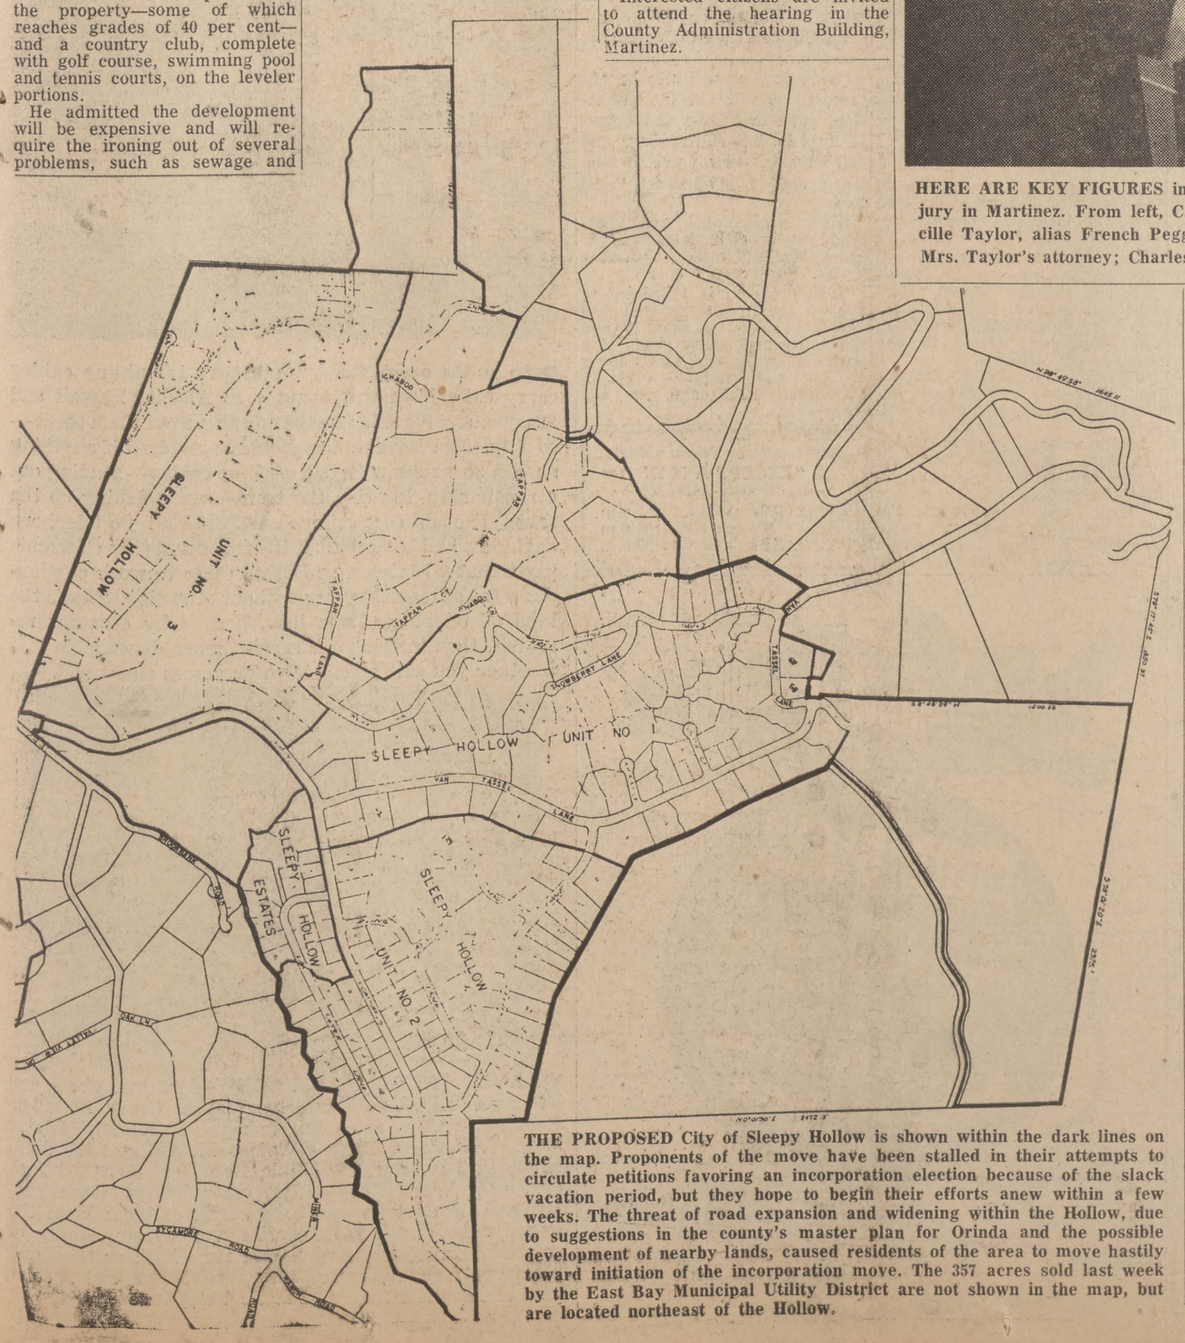
AT THE TIME the general plan was presented by the county planning department, the staff said, "The Moraga Valley presents an outstanding opportunity to develop a well-planned semi-urban community."

The area involved extends south from Lafayette to the Alameda County line and between the Orinda and the Alamo-Danville areas, and it encompasses 8300 acres.

County planning staffers have suggested that 185 acres of the total be set aside by zoning for commerical and business use, 100 acres for controlled manufacturing and professional and administrative offices and community facilities would get 30 acres each.

THE RHEEM properties, which take up a sizable portion of the plan, will be excluded from the discussion Tuesday night because they were previously zoned, and the Burton Shopping Center area, which is not yet zoned, also will be omitted from the hearing.

Interested citizens are invited to attend the hearing in the County Administration Building, Martinez.



THE PROPOSED City of Sleepy Hollow is shown within the dark lines on the map. Proponents of the move have been stalled in their attempts to circulate petitions favoring an incorporation election because of the slack vacation period, but they hope to begin their efforts anew within a few weeks. The threat of road expansion and widening within the Hollow, due to suggestions in the county's master plan for Orinda and the possible development of nearby lands, caused residents of the area to move hastily toward initiation of the incorporation move. The 357 acres sold last week by the East Bay Municipal Utility District are not shown in the map, but are located northeast of the Hollow.

Cooper Sought In Three States By Sheriff's Men

A full scale man hunt for Charles F. Cooper, indicted by the grand jury for allegedly attempting to bribe District Attorney John Nejedly, was launched Wednesday afternoon by the Contra Costa Sheriff's Office.

At noon yesterday, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was studying whether Cooper would be charged with "unlawful flight to avoid prosecution." The charge issued by the grand jury is extraditable, according to the district attorney.

Cooper, organizer for Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union, Local 595, was to have surrendered himself on the attempted bribery charge Wednesday morning at 10 a.m., according to his wife, Bernice Cooper, secretary-treasurer of the union.

SHE INFORMED Walter Trawick, sheriff's chief of detectives, Wednesday night that her husband had left the family home on Clinton Avenue in Richmond at approximately 10 a.m.

The plan of the Coopers, according to Trawick, was for Cooper to turn himself over to his attorney Robert Condon, former U.S. representative.

Condon, Trawick continued, was to take Cooper to the County Jail in Martinez where Cooper would be charged with the attempted bribery, be fingerprinted and photographed. Cooper was then to put up $5000 bail and be released pending further action by the district attorney.

At 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, the bench warrant for Cooper's arrest was turned over to Trawick. Trawick assigned Detective Bud Hobert to the case and attempts were made to find Cooper and his wife.

COOPER'S WIFE was visiting with a sister, Agnes Rose of Richmond. Trawick termed Cooper's wife as being most cooperative in the hunt for her husband.

Wednesday night, a squad of Reno detectives was assigned to hunt for Cooper in that city. Cooper, according to acquaintances, came to Contra Costa County from there approximately five years ago.

Danny Isola Will Leave For Chicago Next Week

Next Friday, August 28, is the big day for little Danny Isola.

That's the day the seven-year-old son of Orinda mailman Larry Isola will leave for Chicago, where he is scheduled to undergo a delicate heart operation on August 31.

SO THE SHOCK of being on an airplane for the first time will not be too great for the youngster, American Airlines has arranged for Danny and his family to make an inspection tour of the type airplane on which he will ride.

The inspection tour is scheduled for next Thursday, August 27. Danny will be taken to the San Francisco International Airport to see a jet airliner—on the actual flight he will take—prior to takeoff.

Danny, who has been a "blue baby" since birth, was the subject of a "Dollars for Danny" campaign in the Orinda area last spring. People from all over the Bay Area—and even into Hawaii—responded from the heart for a total of about $10,000 — $7,000 more than was hoped for by the fund committee.

THE YOUNGSTER has transposed blood vessels leading to and from his heart, and unless he has an operation soon, doctors say he will die.

Thomas G. Baffes of Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago is the only doctor who can perform the delicate, but necessary, operation.

So Danny will arrive in Chicago Friday night, will undergo three days of tests and—if all goes well—will have his operation Monday.

A NATIONAL HOTEL chain has offered a week of "no-charge" rent for Danny's parents, and half rate during the balance of their stay in Chicago.

The Contra Costa Travel Service of Concord is paying for Danny's first class air transportation to and from Chicago.

And now that their job has just about reached its climax, Mrs. Harold Engman and Mrs. Calvin Schaefer, co-chairmen of the fund drive, again expressed their appreciation for the fine reception received by their plea.

Boy With .22 Picked Up

A Cathedral City 17-year-old boy was arrested Monday night, while driving his old car about Sleepy Hollow, causing a disturbance.

Sheriff's deputies said he had a .22 caliber revolver in the car. The boy's father came from Cathedral City to pick up his son and the gun.

Summer Hard To Predict

Is summer giving up so soon? The last gasp of summer is always tough to predict, but looking back on this week indicates that the temperature readings look more like October.

The lows, all in the 50s, and the highs, mostly in the sixties, do not bode well for die-hard swim pool enthusiasts.

Here are the highs and lows:

August 13	89	57
August 14	75	51
August 15	73	53
August 16	75	53
August 17	68	54
August 18	67	55

Popularity of Orinda Library Is On Increase

The operation of the Orinda Library during its first summer in the new building on Irwin Way has proved very successful.

Mrs. Sara Malinowsky, Orinda librarian, reported this week that the circulation for July 1959 totaled 13,653 books and magazines, an increase of more than 70 per cent over the average circulation for the last six months in the old location.

THE LIBRARY MOVED from the basement of the nursery at the Orinda Community Church to the new $112,000 structure last November 17. The building was constructed from public subscription funds, and is entirely paid for to this point.

According to Mrs. Malinowsky, the circulation is steadily increasing, as evidenced by the fact that the June 1959 figure was 13,012, or more than 600 less than in July.

The librarian explained that although the library is in excellent shape, there are several items which it could use. These include an air conditioning unit, more furniture and a few more stacks.

"AS THE CIRCULATION increases, more volume of books is needed and we have so many books now that we are running out of room already," she said.

Mrs. Malinowsky blames the sudden popularity of the Orinda facility, part of the county library system, on a growing population, the new building and the fact that the new titles the library is handling draws patrons from other areas of the county.

Residents Charge Action Means Vote Right Loss

Homeowners in two areas which were excluded from the proposed Town of Lafayette by the County Board of Supervisors last week rose up in arms this week, charging that the county had wrongfully removed their democratic prerogative of voting.

The areas involved are all of Springhill Road and that portion of Brown Avenue from the freeway overpass north, both of which were in the original town boundaries and were not included in the protested areas until August 10, the day before the supervisors established the final boundaries.

RESIDENTS OF THE areas most of whom said they intended to use the period between now and the October 27 election to study the incorporation proposal before making personal decisions but wanted the right to cast their ballots, charged that the petitions concerning them were filed August 10, six full days after the date the supervisors had set as the final time for acceptance of the protests and exclusion requests.

In addition, according to Paul Johanson, president of the Sunny Oaks Improvement Association (Brown Avenue), and verified by Jerry Tara, deputy county assessor, the Brown Avenue petition contained only nine names, while there are about 25 homeowners in the area.

Johanson said, "Obviously, nine is not a majority of 25, and the nine names on the exclusion request are also on a petition favoring inclusion in the incorporation which I personally obtained last month. As a matter of fact, the earlier petition included no less than 20 of the 25 names."

ROY HEFFNER, another resident of the Brown Avenue area, stated, "We're all in favor of incorporation."

He explained that when he called Tara Monday to find out what had happened to cause the exclusion of the area he was told by the county official that "We didn't like that hump in the boundaries anyway."

Deputy District Attorney John Clausen said the Lafayette residents had misinterpreted the supervisors' action, and that there was no room for misunderstanding because "the record shows no official action setting the closing date for protests was taken by the board."

BESIDES, THE DEPUTY district attorney said, "The government code gives the supervisors the plenary power to set the boundaries as they see fit."

He explained there is no legal manner in which the boundaries can be changed now.

(A Sun reporter present at the August 4 public hearing on the incorporation — said by supervisors to be the final hearing — and Bill Zion, also present at the supervisors' meeting in his capacity as chairman of the incorporation committee of the Lafayette Improvement Association, recalled reference to board action limiting exclusions to those filed before August 4, and Supervisor Mel Nielsen later admitted there had been that action).

THE MATTER CAME to a boil early this week after Don H. Fibush, 3350 Springhill Road, reported that members of the Springhill Improvement Association had discussed incorporation early in the summer and had been satisfied that they would be included and could vote in the election.

Late Sunday night, August 9, and into the next day, Fibush and other area residents reported, persons began circulating petitions for exclusion.

"They called us up as late as 1:30 at night," Mrs. Fibush stated, "and when we told them we favored incorporation, they said, 'Thank you, that's all we want to know' and hung up."

FIBUSH BECAME a little disturbed, and phoned Nielsen, who this week admitted telling Fibush there would be another public hearing on the matter August 11, and he (Fibush) could attend. Nielsen told Fibush he would call back, telling him what time to be at the supervisors' meeting, and Fibush agreed he would call off all personal commitments for the afternoon.

According to the Springhill resident, the next thing he heard of incorporation was the story in last Friday's Sun, explaining that Springhill Road had been excluded.

Nielsen told The Sun, "Well, you can't please them all. They can annex to the city after it is incorporated."

THE SUPERVISOR explained that he learned on August 11 that the supervisors were conducting a closed hearing on the matter and "that's why I didn't call him (Fibush)."

He added that the original action closing exclusions was apparently in error, as all protests have to be considered until the official boundaries are established, but the public was not informed of the change.

Mrs. Bill Borowiak, 3329 Springhill Road, said "I know for a fact that in petitions circulated earlier the great majority of Springhill residents wanted at least a vote on the incorporation.

"I AM DISAPPOINTED in that this was not a fair and square battle—we didn't get a chance to speak our piece.

"Whenever a property owner wants to make some improvements on his property all of the neighbors must be notified and a delay usually results before a public hearing is held to decide whether or not the work can be done.

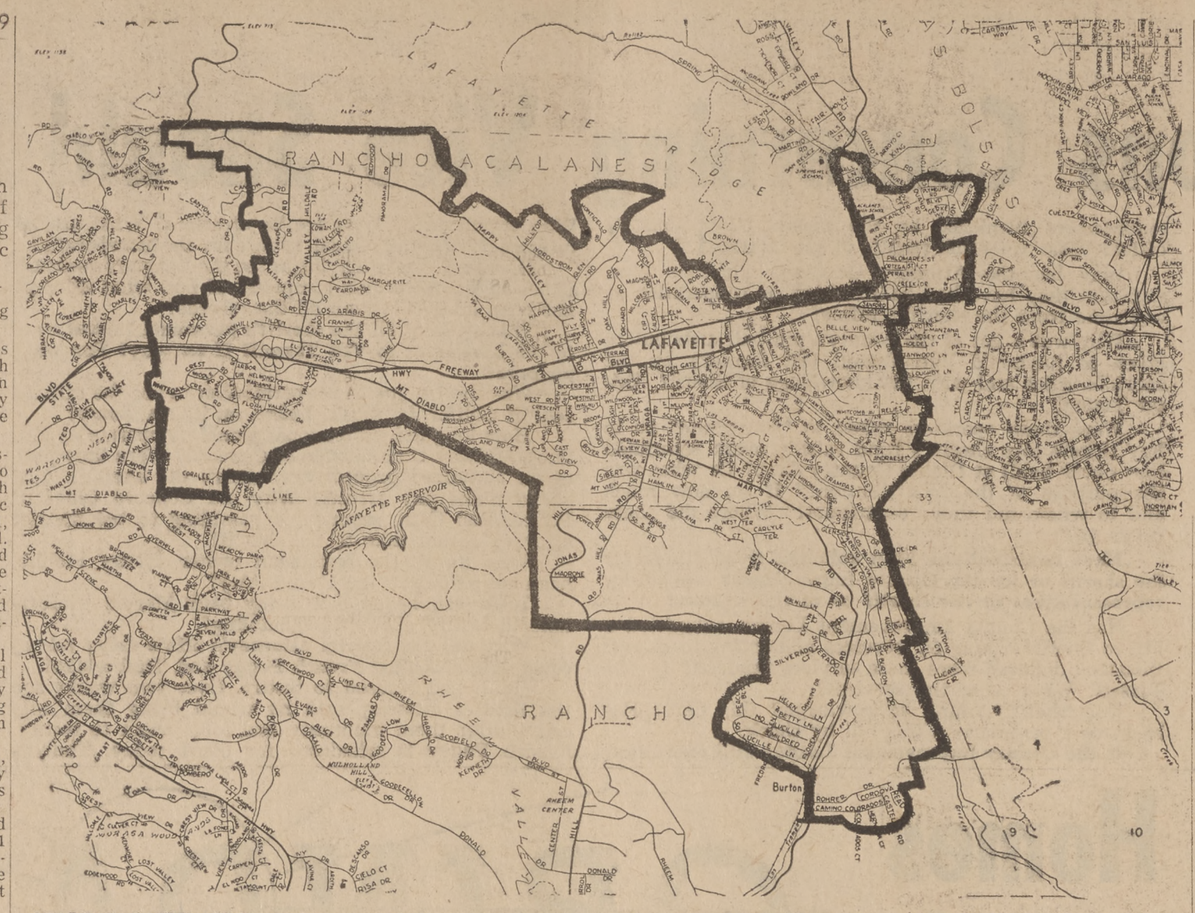
"But, in a matter which is so much more important—such as incorporation—things can happen very quickly."

LOY CHAMBERLAIN, 3394 Springhill Road, president of the Springhill Improvement Association, who admitted he was one of the signers of the exclusion petition, said "I thought the petitions were closed August 4, and I wondered how they still were being accepted."

He stated that he had the feeling at the association meeting concerning incorporation that the residents—regardless of how they felt on the issue—wanted a chance to vote, and "It's still a mystery to me why the persons wanting exclusion didn't act earlier."

Chamberlain confirmed that he was contacted last month by Kenneth Brown, a member of the Citizens' Committee Against Further Taxation (the anti-incorporation group), regarding a special meeting of his group (the SRIA) about possible exclusion.

He said he was only vice president at that time, but referred the matter to President Bill Jeffrey, who indicated there was not sufficient time, and the matter had already been discussed.



OFFICIAL BOUNDARIES of the proposed Town of Lafayette, the incorporation of which will be voted on October 27, are shown in this map of the overall central county area. Last week's map in The Sun showed unofficial boundaries, particularly as they concerned the exclusions allowed by the County Board of Supervisors. Note that nearly all of the Burton area (lower right) is included in the boundaries, as is the Lafayette Woodlands district, along Jonas Hill Road, south of St. Mary's Road. Meanwhile, residents in two local areas this week orally protested the supervisors' last-minute exclusion of their districts because it prohibits them from voting in the incorporation election. The areas involved are along Springhill Road (upper right) and Brown Avenue (north of the dark "Lafayette" on the map).

Country Club, Home Planning Scheme Revealed to keep the poplars which line the lane and to maintain the tranquil atmosphere of the 500-acre residential development.

DR. HENRY TASTABEND, another of the committee members said that if the incorporation move passes and Lombardy Lane remains closed, the only access routes which will be available will be the extension of Happy Valley Road and/or the extension of Ranch Road.

He added, "I don't think a country club — in itself — would hurt our area, because it has continuing traffic in small doses. But a 150-home development brings 300 additional autos to the area, and that creates a traffic problem."

The incorporation committee has been temporarily stalled because of the vacation period, but its members indicated they may be able to have a small meeting sometime next week.

Untroubled 3-Year-Old Wanders Hills

A lonely tour of the Orinda Hills last Friday ended with Janie Santos' comment, "I'm cold," but otherwise the three year old seemed unperturbed.

Not the case with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Santos, who live on the Dutra Ranch, Bear Creek Road.

Janie followed her dad while he was doing some chores, but soon became bored and began looking around for other things to do. By the time dad looked around for Janie, she was gone.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteers launched a wide search, and finally a group of teenagers, David Johnson, Allison Horn, Bob Ludlow and Pam Johnson found her.

Santos said, "I sure am grateful to everyone that helped. Sheriff Young came out to personally assure my wife everything possible was being done. We appreciated that."

Sheriff Young Is Speaker at Orinda Rotary

Sheriff Walter Young told members of the Orinda Club Wednesday afternoon that he "thought" the County Board of Supervisors has been made aware of his request for additional men.

Young was featured speaker at the Rotarians' regular luncheon meeting at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, formerly the Willows.

DURING the current grand jury investigation of vice and gambling in the county, Young blamed his department's inability to police effectively on a lack of manpower.

Most of his prepared talk at the Rotary Club meeting concerned the workings of the sheriff's department.

He was introduced by Joseph Longacre, Jr., program chairman, and Past President Leighton MacGregor presided.

Orindan Named To Trade Body

Trusten P. Coats, 7 Via Faralon, former president and present advisor of the First Western Bank, is one of two men appointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown this week to four-year terms on the World Trade Center Authority.

The other new appointee to the authority, which has headquarters in San Francisco's Ferry Building, is George L. Killion of Oakland, president of the American President Lines.

Adolph P. Schuman, chairman of the authority, noted that Coats "has been associated with many leading banking organizations during a distinguished career extending over 41 years."

County to Sell Excess Property

Approximately 14,000 square feet of surplus land will be sold by the county at a public auction at 11 a.m. September 15 in the board of supervisors' room of the Hall of Records, Martinez.

Up for grabs to the highest bidder is a parcel of land located on the south side and west of the intersection of Camino Pablo and Avenida de Orinda in the Orinda Village area.

The county reported the land is excess property left over from widening operations in the area.

Orinda Chamber Votes Down Polio Vaccine Clinic

Members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce have turned down a proposal that the chamber raise funds by sponsoring a polio vaccine clinic in Orinda.

At its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, the chamber discussed the proposal of Doris Sterling of the county health department that the chamber conduct the clinic and sell polio shots at a dollar each, with 60 cents of each dollar reverting to the chamber.

JAMES R. LUCAS, chamber president, pointed out that the group is seeking methods of raising funds, but that the polio clinic, as conducted in other communities, would require the full cooperation of area physicians, who would render their services free of charge.

Such a clinic, according to Kenneth Courtright, would be "an imposition on the doctors," who now collect $5 each for the polio shots, "and it would cut into their practice a little bit."

Clarence Betz, chamber secretary-manager, said he feels the clinic is outside the scope of chamber activities — "We shouldn't try to make money from something like polio."

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY of raising funds discussed by the members was a suggestion that the group sponsor one night's performance of an upcoming Dramateurs' production.

Lucas, who said he will look into the proposal and report back to the group at a later meeting, reported this sponsorship would require the chamber purchasing 150 tickets for one performance, selling the tickets at $1.50 each, and splitting the revenue with the players.

The Dramateurs' current presentation, "The Happy Time," will be shown this weekend and next, and the performances of "The Winslow Boy" will begin September 11.

JOHN HALL, the chamber's program chairman, reported that Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie will be the guest speaker at the September 15 meeting of the group.

Chamber members also:

1—Voted to purchase 200 new maps of the central county area. The chamber cooperated with the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board in printing the maps originally, and the chamber recently depleted its supply.

2—PURCHASED TWO copies, at $1 each, of the organization directory recently published by the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County.

3—Presented a desk lamp to John Ogden in recognition of his service as president of the chamber in 1958-59.

Black's Market Is Burglarized

About $600 in cash and liquor valued at nearly $300 were taken by burglars from Black's Market, 63 Moraga Way, Sunday.

A door was jimmied and a combination file cabinet and safe had been pried open. James Tosteson, co-owner of the liquor department, said the cash represented receipts from his department.

The market had been burglarized of $3100 and a quantity of liquor about a year ago.

New Organist For Church

The appointment of Philip N. Treggor, director of choral music at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, as choirmaster and organist at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, was announced this week.

Treggor, who is a recent arrival in the Bay Area, was formerly assistant professor of music at the University of Connecticut, Hartford, Conn., and has had extensive training and experience as a choral director and voice teacher.

HIS CHOIRS and choruses have sung concerts with many of the large eastern symphony orchestras and he has appeared as a bass-baritone soloist with the New York Philharmonic and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

He is to sing a major role in the forthcoming San Francisco Conservatory production of the Benjamin Britten opera, "Peter Grimes."

The Treggor family, which includes his wife, Frances, a son, Joseph, 17, and a daughter, Judith, 9, decided to come west after visiting the Bay Area on vacation last summer. A second daughter, Cynthia, 17, is in New York, where she will enter the Manhattan School of Music on a full scholarship in the violin this fall.

White, Giles Enter Animals In State Fair

Penny Tax Cut Likely, Due To Big Valuation Increase

A one-cent tax cut per $100 assessed valuation is anticipated for County taxpayers due to an overall assessed valuation increase of $48,000,000, some $15,000,000 higher than expected.

The tax rate last year (1958-59) was $2.29, and an estimated increased budget for '59-'60 seemed to indicate the tax rate would go up 8.4 cents to $2.374.

Warren G. (Bud) Buchanan, Board of Supervisors chairman, said the higher property valuation would have lowered the tax rate even more than one cent—a total of 2.7 cents—except for the library tax. (Richmond, with its own library district is omitted).

The library tax has gone up 1.7 cents to a total of 11.7 cents, so the expected cut is one instead of 2.7 cents.

Hearings on the new budget began yesterday, and by law must conclude by August 30, when the tax rate will be set.

The preliminary discussion has resulted in a tentative 1959-60 budget of $37,678,248, compared to last year's $35,094,427.

J. P. McBrien, county administrator, said a number of capital improvements were deferred, and restrictions placed on existing programs. He added a calculated risk has been taken that the Social Welfare Department's projections are higher than actual.

If all requests had been granted, the tax rate would have shot up to $2.73 he added. However, the preliminary figure is higher by some half a million dollars than earlier figures, and was raised after the assessment rolls were in.

Among the items restored was the purchase for $75,000 of the old Sacramento Northern Railroad right of way for road and utility purposes.

Still out of the budget is the proposed new wing for the county hospital.

Contra Costa Center Seen By Alameda State College

Alameda State College officials plan to locate a center in Contra Costa County by September, 1960, County Superintendent Floyd Marchus has been told.

Dr. Marchus said he has learned from Dr. Richard Purdy, the college's dean of instruction, that "it is possible that we will open a center in Contra Costa County where courses can be taken for residence credit."

This would be in addition to the Hayward campus, also conveniently located to some sections of Contra Costa County.

The college's first classes will open September 28, in leased quarters at the Sunset High School, Hayward. Initial classes will be confined to upper division and graduate students in elementary education.

Dr. Marchus said teacher training is one of the most important functions of the new college.

"State college courses within easy reach of Contra Costa will fill the gap in local teacher training," he commented.

"They will supplement the lower division courses made available by the Contra Costa Junior College District and by reducing the costs of education to commute expenses and other minor items will encourage students to continue their teacher training.

"Such courses will also benefit teachers already in the profession, providing them the opportunity to continue training, and will enhance their value to Contra Costa County Schools," he said.

Other professional and vocational lines will be introduced as the college progresses, according to Dr. Purdy.

"The program is scheduled to expand rapidly in the next few years. In 1960 we plan to add the junior and senior years of a business major and start upper division and graduate work in mathematics, language, arts, and other fields."

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Deep on the ocean floor, underseas telephone cables carry calls from this country to Alaska, Hawaii and Europe. A cable ship like the one above put them there—to stay. Just imagine the problems involved if anything should go wrong with one of these cables—sending out a repair ship, locating the trouble spot, fishing up the cable. It could cost as much as $250,000! So telephone engineers had to design all the tubes and tiny electronic parts that go into an underseas cable to work continuously for at least 20 years without attention. That's the kind of telephone know-how, backed by constant research, that makes your service more dependable . . . whether you call across town or across the world.

Prostitutes, Drug Addict, Gamblers Interviewed on Vice

By BOB RAFIDA

Tuesday night I spoke with gamblers, prostitutes, drug addicts and felons in the county's infamous North Richmond area.

This is not a fantasy. The names used in this article are true. I have their last names. These people live in North Richmond and ply their nefarious trades there and in other areas of Contra Costa and the state.

All of the persons spoken to were Negroes.

The bulk of the persons, spoken to during the four hour "tour" of a 10-square block area which for years has been described as a thorn in the side of law enforcement agencies, have been in jail one or more times.

The tour was conducted by newly-appointed Sheriff's Chief of Dectives Walter Trawick at this writer's request. Trawick served two years in the North Richmond area as a patrol deputy and two years as a detective in the western end of the county.

North Richmond itself is a squalid slum development whose dirt sidewalks are littered with wine bottles and broken glass.

ITS RESIDENTS ARE a shifty lot who roam from barroom to cafe in search of no good.

Trawick told me there are decent people who have businesses in North Richmond, such as Minnie Lou, who owns a tavern and restaurant and holds the only on-sale liquor license in the area.

But she is the exception, rather than the rule. The rest of the establishments have beer and wine licenses and the fifth of those places can only be compared with the condition of the dilapidated store fronts and trash strewn in the side yards.

IF A LIKENESS could be drawn between Cat Fish Row and North Richmond, North Richmond would be the area on the wrong side of the tracks.

We went to the Bobby Sox Inn, on Grove Street between Fifth and Sixth Streets, the very heart of the North Richmond "business" area.

A group of loiterers lined the street in front of the Bobby Sox Club and stood about in groups adjacent to Bally's Liquor Store.

From there we went to E & L Hickory Pit, where two known "trick girls" were drinking cheap wine with several men.

TRAWICK CALLED OUT Georgianna, a tall, attractive Negress. Trawick asked her what was operating, who were the trick girls and where were they operating.

She answered in an honest manner that most of the people in North Richmond were out of work, the gambling was shut down and the girls were going to Reno and Salinas to ply their trade.

She was asked if she were using dope (in the jargon of the dope addict) and she replied she had not been using heroin or any other drug and added she did not know where to obtain any at the present time.

A SECOND GIRL, Grace, was interrogated by Trawick at the Lone Star Cafe. I was shown the scar tissue caused by heroin injections, but Grace exclaimed she had "seen the light and got off the junk."

Grace had been a "mainliner" and has done time in state hospitals because of it. She told Trawick she wasn't working at the present time, but a relative had left her some "loot" and she was living upstairs from the Lone Star Cafe.

We dropped in to visit J. P., a well known North Richmond personality, who lives just behind the Bobby Sox Inn. There were seven men seated around a card table in the two room shack.

There were two men and a woman on a divan in front of a television set and two more seated across the room on chairs.

TRAWICK ASKED WHAT was going on. J. J. and a heavy set man by the name of Dusty answered they were "watching Sugarfoot on TV."

They were asked if they were gambling—the answer was "no."

Dusty was asked to step outside the house and answer a few questions.

He was asked who was operating, what they were doing inside the house, were they waiting for a game to start, etc.

DUSTY CALMLY ANSWERED that Trawick has just gotten there "too soon." They were thinking about playing, but the boys with the loot just hadn't shown up. They might play a little coon can or georgia skin or shoot a little dice, but nothing was happening when Trawick walked in.

George skin and coon-can are card games which ar eillegal. All card games played for money are illegal in this state with the exception of draw poker and low ball.

Our next step was at the Savoy Club, a huge, concrete block building filled with tables and chairs with a small wine and beer bar. To the right of the front door is a small kitchen and cafe.

AS WE STEPPED in, a youth dashed out of the kitchen and headed for a back room. By the time I was aware of what was happening, Trawick was charging like an express train through the tables and chair heading for the back room door.

He knocked on the door and announced he was a detective of the sheriff's office. The door was opened and three men and three women were inside. A chair has been thrown on a table and a back window was wide open indicating someone had made a hasty exit.

Trawick was told there was a private meeting going on. He asked for the minutes of the meeting and there was a short pause and a little giggle from the girls. Trawick was told the secretary had already left the premises. Looking to the window, Trawick agreed.

The Savoy Club was the recent scene of a brutal killing and a girl involved in the killing was interrogated by Trawick during the evening. The actual murder was solved by Trawick several months ago.

The Signal Corps of the United States Army could certainly learn a lesson from the communications network in North Richmond.

There are buzzer systems in the clubs, runners for messages, doormen to make sure only "customers" come in, telephone pay stations on corners in case police cars are seen in the general vicinity and a prepared list of excuses for "meetings" should "unauthorized persons get in to one of the meetings.

AT APPROXIMATELY midnight we met Patrol Deputies Rocky Dwyer and Pete Pedretti. As their patrol car entered the area, the street cleared.

I had noticed when Trawick and I had arrived, a number of persons left the area, cars left the curb in a hurry and many persons filtered to the other end of the street.

When the patrol car came on the scene, the street emptied.

I learned from Dwyer he had been injured while on duty in the North Richmond area and had recently come back to work.

HE HAD BEEN lifted and tossed down on his own patrol car by a fellow known as Shorty.

Dwyer is over six feet tall and weighs at least 220 pounds. Shorty, who I later met and talked to, was 135 pounds and approximately 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Shorty just had been released from prison. Shorty "doesn't like The Fuzz" (police), but he seemed calm as Trawick interrogated him concerning vice and gambling in North Richmond.

Some of the people we talked to gave us information, others didn't. We were told things were popping in South Richmond, within the city limits; we were informed the bulk of the "heavy gamblers" are going to San Francisco for their "sport."

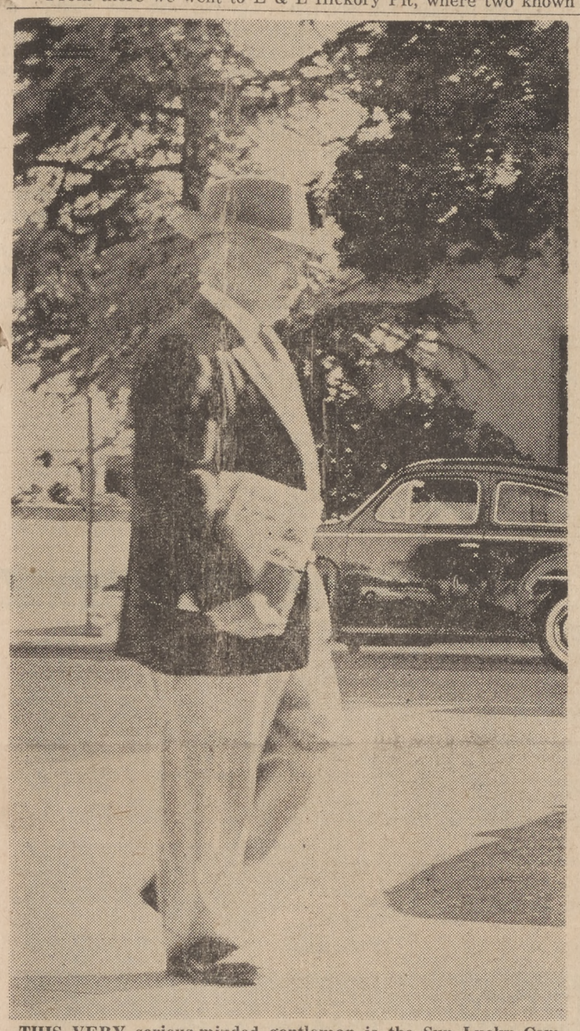
THERE IS ONE patrol car to work the entire west ond of the county at night. There are two men in this one car, the reason for two men in one car, I feel, is obvious.

The remainder of our stay in North Richmond was spent discussing such people as Tommy, a gambler; Daddy-O, the owner of another North Richmond club; Brady, Devil's Betty, Little Bernice and Mary with the Pony Tail.

Granted, all names out of a Damon Runyon book, but nonetheless, in this case, the names are true.

In the current investigation into vice and gambling being conducted by Contra Costa's Grand Jury, the very issue of vice and gambling has been clouded by side issues and personality clashes.

The fact remains, vice and gambling in Contra Costa County exist. The North Richmond area is the heart of its existance. The eradication of this hub of vice activity will be a step of progress for a truly "clean county."



THIS VERY serious-minded gentleman is the Sun Lucky Commuter for this week. All he need do to take home $5 in cash and a year's subscription to The Sun is drop by our offices and identify himself. Commuting, often considered a drag, can have its lighter moments, you see! —Sun photo by Dave Ogden

'Lucky Commuter'

The gentleman above was probably thinking about the 49'ers, which the front page of the paper folded under his arm refers to—but The Sun's cameraman was looking for his Lucky Commuter of the week.

This happy coincidence means that the gentleman can drop by The Sun offices and pick up $5 in cash and a year's subscription to The Sun.

Each week, our cameraman is looking for a commuter who seems to fit the concept of a Contra Costa commuter—on a schedule, with a lot on his mind, a man with a mission.

Next week he may be you. Check The Sun each week and see!

Meet to Determine Law Control Adequacy Held

Top level officials on the California Attorney General's Office and the Contra Costa Sheriff's Office met Wednesday in San Francisco to determine the adequacy of law enforcement in the county, The Sun learned.

Present at the closed door session were Sheriff Walter F. Young, Undersheriff Harry A. Ramsey; Melvin L. Hawley, deputy director of criminal law and enforcement, Sacramento; Charles A. O'Brien, chief assistant attorney general, division of criminal and law enforcement, San Francisco, and Clarence A. Linn, assistant attorney general, San Francisco.

LINN HAS BEEN in charge of the attorney general's investigation into vice and gambling in Contra Costa County for the past several months.

Tuesday, however, O'Brien, Linn's newly appointed superior, came to the grand jury meeting in Martinez to obtain "background information."

O'Brien and Young informed The Sun after the one hour hearing that the results may or may not become public.

O'Brien, on the subject, said: "It all depends." Young, on the same topic, said: "We'll know for sure (whether or not the meeting's results will be made public) in the near future."

YOUNG SAID the meeting, itself, was "gratifying" and added personnel matters had been discussed during it.

Under sections of the government code, the attorney general may call meetings to determine whether police protection afforded to cities or counties by police or sheriff's departments is adequate.

Asked if O'Brien and/or Linn would be present at the Tuesday session of the grand jury scheduled for 1:30 in Martinez, O'Brien said: "It all depends."

JOHN B. DUNLAP, foreman of the county grand jury, said Tuesday the grand jury "may wish to talk to some people who have not already been interviewed."

The grand jury has already heard testimony from at least 15 witnesses in 25 hours of hearings on vice and gambling in the county during the past six weeks.

DA Helps Collect 20,000 Cans on 4-Day Vacation

John Nejedly, district attorney of Contra Costa, was one of 30 Sierra Club members who collected trash from the Dingleberry Lake area of Inyo National Forest last week.

Nejedly pointed out that the trip had been planned for approximately six months. Nejedly took four days off from work to help in the collection of 20,000 cans from the recreation area.

Nejedly explained that he and staff members spent the weekend before leaving researching the law granting Lucille Taylor, alias French Peggy, immunity if she answers 29 questions concerning an alleged house of prostitution near Brentwood.

Nejedly received criticism from certain quarters because of his vacation trip during the investigation into vice and gambling being conducted by the state attorney general's office in Contra Costa County.

Union Organizer Avoids Arrest In Bribe Charge

Trawick stated that air terminals and bus stations were being checked and a description of Cooper's car had been flashed to all law enforcement agencies.

A teletype message has been sent to the police chief of Cincinnati, Ohio, the international headquarters of the union, in case Cooper should seek sanctuary there, Trawick added.

TRAWICK SAID he was informed Cooper had the bailH formed Cooper had the bail money on his person when he left his home Wednesday. After being booked, Cooper planned to spend a few days with his wife in Lake County, therefore, Trawick noted, Cooper's bags were in his car ready for the departure.

Cooper, acording to his attorney, refused to answer questions asked by the grand jurors by invoking the fifth amendment.

The bench warrant for Cooper's arrest was signed by Superior Court Judge Wakefield Taylor following the ballot of the grand jurors.

At least 12 jurors must seek an indictment before it may be ordered by the court. All 19 grand jurors were present Tuesday at the five hour session.

COOPER entered the grand jury room and Condon waited at the door. A few minutes later, Condon was called within the grand jury room and came out several seconds later.

Condon at first refused to speak to newsmen, but when Cooper came out some 15 minutes later he issued a statement on behalf of his client.

Condon pointed out: "Since my client is in a position to overhear many things, presenting any information to the grand jury may tend to become incriminating to him (Cooper)."

THEREFORE, Condon said, he advised his client to take the "Fifth."

The actual text of the charge was not released by the grand jurors nor the district attorney following the indictment proceedings.

The indictment stems from the alleged $150,000 bribe offered to the district attorney. The key to the evidence seems to be a tape recording, which the grand jury has heard at least three times, according to observers.

French Peggy Will Appear in Court Today

Lucille Taylor, alias French Peggy, will appear in court this morning at 9 to show cause why she does not have to answer 29 questions asked her by the county grand jury.

Mrs. Taylor refused to answer the questions Tuesday afternoon in Martinez for the second time in two weeks.

MRS. TAYLOR, who is represented by the legal firm of Ring, Turner and Ring, Walnut Creek attorneys, has invoked the fifth amendment twice before the grand jurors.

District Attorney Nejedly has offered her immunity if she answers the questions which have been presented to her. Also offered immunity, but failing to attend Tuesday's session of the grand jury, was Marvin Timberlake, who reportedly operated the gambling at Molino's Midway in Clayton Valley for at least six days.

NEJEDLY stated that Timberlake would be called at Tuesday's session of the grand jury scheduled for 1:30 in Martinez.

Grand Jury Foreman John B. Dunlap, after Tuesday's session said "the jurors had hoped to end things up at that meeting, but will probably discuss things with several other persons at the next session, who have not as yet been interviewed."

Exhibit A, which will be presented this morning in court includes the questions which will be asked of Mrs. Taylor, alias Peggy White, Clementine N. Buckman, Jean Stevens, Jane Cooper, Jean Austen and Clementine Peterson. Here are some of the questions:

"Do you know Barden Carlson, also known as "Bard" Carlson?"

CARLSON was the vice inspector for the Contra Costa Sheriff's Department, when the bordello on Balfour Road was allegedly operating. The alleged "house" was located four miles east of Brentwood and located within the Oakley Judicial district.

"Have you ever paid any money to a deputy sheriff of Contra Costa County in Contra Costa County?"

"Did any peace officer of Contra Costa County ever ask you for money in connection with the operation of a house of prostitution on Balfour Road in Contra Costa County?"

"HAVE YOU ever paid money to anyone in Contra Costa County for the purpose of securing what is commonly known as 'police protection' for the operation of any illegal activity in Contra Costa County?"

"To whom did you pay such money for such purpose?"

"Describe the transaction in full."

"Was prostitution carried on in Contra Costa County in the residence rented by you on Balfour Road?"

"Have you ever in Contra Costa County talked to a deputy sheriff of Contra Costa County by telephone?"

"For what purpose did you talk to such deputy sheriff?"

"Do you know Patrick Lee Jr., also known as "Packy" Lee?"

"State what prices were paid or requested in Contra Costa County for acts of prostitution carried on at the house rented by you on Balfour Road in Contra Costa County."

"Did you ever enter the Brentwood Hotel Bar in Contra Costa County?"

"Were you ever given a drink at the Brentwood Hotel Bar in Contra Costa County by anyone connected with the office of the sheriff of Contra Costa County?"

"Who was this person?"

On The Lighter Side

By CAROL HODGES

A "happy" birthday party was held at the home of Bev and Bill Curtis in Walnut Creek and Bev was on the receiving end for best wishes. It was a barbecue, swim and dance affair around their pool, and who could ask for more?

Those attending included Dick and Lorraine Olson, Frank and Claudia Pierce, Ed and Diane Coleman, Bob and Eileen Patrick from Concord; Sal and Betty Caruso, Jack and Audrey Gordon, Norm and Evelyn Fletcher, Harold and "Muggs" Vincent, Janet and Dick Lieber of Walnut Creek; George and Vi Cox, Pleasant Hill; John and Bev Halvorsen and Don and Ev Anderson. Frank Pierce did his bit for making the party such a success by playing his guitar, singing folk songs and leading the community singing.

Another party in the offing . . . On September 12, when vacations SHOULD be over, the Lafayette Larks of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will hold their annual "fun" party at the beautiful home of the Edward Agenos. The affair will be for the regular members of the unit and their husbands with swimming, cocktails, buffet dinner and dancing. Barbara McAuliffe will be in charge of the arrangements with Lou Oulton assisting.

Completely charmed by a quaint Swiss Chalet located on a high plateau near Glen Ellen in Marin County, the Dan Arena's of Lafayette couldn't resist pulling up stakes and renting this dream house for a month. Helping them to enjoy many leisure hours have been Bob and Jane Marcus from Oakdale, and the Gene Carneys. Planning to visit soon are Gene and Barbara Arena, Bev and Herb Phillips of Lafayette and Lee and Jan Bagby of Alameda.

Where the dollars grow on trees . . .

Las Vegas spelled a "fabulous time" for Joyce and Carl Marino and Werner and Gloria Petersen of Walnut Creek recently. Leaving the young ones behind gave them a glorious sense of freedom and they took in all the shows possible on the Strip . . . Lena Horne at the Sands; the Lido De Paris, which has a six weeks waiting list, but the management of the Star Dust where they were staying, arranged tickets for them; Red Skelton, Frankie Laine, Jayne Mansfield and Ed Sullivan's Review.

Next on the agenda for the Marinos, with children this time, is a trip to Forest Lake Lodge in Lake County. Their friends and neighbors, Fran and Howard Thiele and son Jimmy will be making the same trip but unfortunately not at the same time.

What could be more thrilling than to board a luxury liner such as the "Matsonia" and head for exciting destinations — such as Hawaii — and friends in your stateroom drinking champagne and making toasts. The ship's orchestra playing loud and clear; confetti everywhere and gaily colored paper streamers hanging "cock-eyed" from the upper decks to the dock below . . . well, I wouldn't know, but "Red" and Barbara Barckley of Lafayette do and almost as excited as the Barckleys, were Bill and Jean White, Bill and Betty Seroy and Bob and Hilma Heaton, all of Lafayette, who gave them a real GOOD send-off. Bon Voyage!

Gone today, here tomorrow . . . Magic!

Like Rome, all roads are leading to Tahoe this season, but Bruce and Bev Stringer of Lafayette will be going for many seasons to come. They had purchased a lot on the south end of the lake, and over a weekend (one, mind you) erected their summer home and left able to lock the door behind them!

Sounds like the work of a genie, but I'm told parts of the house were already assembled and it was just a matter of putting it together. Some small matter!

Another locked door and happy about it all, are Jim and Lois Simonds also of Lafayette, who completed their summer home on the north side of Lake Tahoe. The family enjoyed two weeks of camping at Donner while Jim was busy putting on the finishing touches.

Little did they know they would end up with bats in the belfry . . . Gay Lindh of Glenside Drive, Lafayette and a friend from Los Altos took the children to Fallen Leaf, Tahoe, for what they considered a well deserved vacation leaving their husbands at home. A narrow winding road, which didn't even go all the way, was the only access to their very rustic cabin and after packing bedding and provisions up a steep incline, they decided a "man around the house" would be rather handy especially when they found the electric wiring to be a little "fouled up."

After several hours of confusion they sought the help of a friendly male neighbor and soon had the lights in working order. It was discovered however, the refrigerator would work only if connected in the bathroom, which is just one example of the workings of these tempermental outlets.

To top it all, an inquisitive bat flew in just as things were being righted and ended up in battle with a string mop and flying slippers! Needless to say, our vacation minded friends are back home for a rest.

Enjoying the outdoor life — Bill Scott and Bill Jr. of Berkeley, and Don Smith and son Russ of Lafayette, fishing and whatever else they do at Honey Dew in Humboldt County. I know this for a fact, can't say for sure about Tippy Scott and Peg Smith.

The ladies were counting on a cabin containing a few of the modern conveniences, but due to a mix-up in reservations, they ended up by "roughing" it. Cooking and sleeping in the great open spaces are not their particular cups of tea but gave in to the gentle persuasion. The Smiths, however, had already enjoyed a carefree week at Tahoe which Peg loved so I guess she decided it was Don's turn.

TWO HOMES were endangered last week when flames burned several acres of grass north of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, behind Zilke's Furniture. Central District and Lafayette firemen answered the call in minutes and the flames were controlled before damage was done. This was one of a series of fires last week. —Sun photo by Dave Ogden

321,881 Use Facilities of Pleasant Hill Rec District

Pleasant Hill Recreation and Park District program finished the fiscal year June 30, with an attendance participation of 321,881, it was announced today by Jimmie Swendig, District Superintendent.

Of this total 88,081 were playground children and adults attending the seven operated playgrounds in Pleasant Hill.

Another 84,844 participated in aquatic activities during the six months of pool operation in the Pleasant Hill Park Pools.

In special activities and events from preschool runabouts to Senior Citizens, there was still another 72,024 accounted for without considering the Park attendance of 42,781, spectator attendance of 28,757, or the various unsupervised Recreation Center activities of some 5,394.

"In an effort to develop a better program of activities to meet everyone's desires, your suggestions are welcome at the District office concerning your hobby, sport or activity of your interest," Swendig said.

Voter Registration for Water Bond Ends Aug. 27

Registration of voters in the central county area for the October 20 special election will close August 27, according to J. R. Olsson, registration and elections supervisor in the office of County Clerk W. T. Paasch.

The election has been called by the Contra Costa County Water District to submit a $13,840,000 bond issue to the voters. The money would be used to buy out facilities of the California Water Service Company and improve the system.

If voters approve the bonds, the water district plans a complete engineering survey of the physical condition of the system before beginning negotiations for the purchase.

Following is a complete list of registration deputies in the area and the addresses where voters may go to register:

Pleasant Hill:

Betty Lou Adams, Diablo Vista Elementary School, 277 Boyd Road; Mrs. J. Joan Butterfield, 261 Betty Lane; Ruth Dawkins, 206 Barbara Court; Mrs. Elizabeth B. Fisher, 1440 Monument Boulevard.

Johnson, 650 Pleasant Hill Road; Mrs. Doris L. Lanning, 725 Charlton Drive; Kathryn A. Litsinger, 209 Patterson Boulevard; Marie Markley McGrill, Pleasant Hill Intermediate School, 265 Boyd Road.

Women Voters to Assist Absentees

The national League of Women Voters, of which the Concord-Diablo Valley League is a branch, is undertaking a project to assist men and women in the armed services in casting an informed absentee vote in elections.

The effort this year is directed to local and state elections, and next year will apply also to congressional elections.

Several months ago a group of Defense Department officials consulted the league to see if it knew of any way in which factual nonpartisan information might be supplied to armed forces personnel upon request.

The Defense Department is well equipped to supply all the necessary information on the mechanics of absentee voting, but unable to provide factual information on local, state, and congressional candidates and issues.

The league through its local and state leagues will make available, upon request, nonpartisan information on candidates and ballot issues.

Servicemen and women may make their requests through families or friends back home, or they may write directly to the local league if there is one in their home town, otherwise to the state league.

Addresses of state leagues will be placed on bulletin boards at military establishments.

Concord Man Hits Ace at Mira Vista

Jack Malseed of Concord, who was the guest of Glen Holtwick, 10 Las Palomas, Orinda, fired a hole in one on the ninth hole at the Mira Vista Country Club golf course in El Cerrito last Friday.

The blind ace, sunk with a Ben Hogan nine iron, was witnessed by Holtwick and his wife.

HOLTWICK REPORTED that the trio realized Malseed's iron drive was a good one, but were unable to follow the flight of the ball because the hole is blind.

After five minutes spent in trying to locate the ball, someone thought of looking in the cup and found it there, he said.

Two Orinda Pools Preparing Events To Close Seasons

Several more events are scheduled for the immediate future as the Orinda Park and Sleepy Hollow pools prepare to cap one of the most successful summer seasons in their histories.

The Orinda Park Pool, which staged a well-received talent and fashion show witnessed by about 150 persons last Friday night, will hold a "Cotton Cotillion" at the pool for the young people tomorrow night.

LAST WEEK'S TALENT and fashion show included a water ballet featuring the advanced women swimmers, and eight teenaged boys did a takeoff on women's water ballets—clad in ladies' bathing suits.

Dances for younger members of the Orinda Park group have been more successful and more frequent this summer than in the past.

Other events planned before the season closes early in October include a three-team meet at the Orinda Park Pool between Livermore, Lafayette and Orinda Park; the pool championships and awards presentation September 6 in conjunction with the Labor Day program; and the Orinda community meet at Sleepy Hollow Pool September 12.

AWARDS TO BE presented September 6 include the Bob Edwards perpetual trophy, given to the best swimmer in the eight and under age group, and mementoes to the outstanding swimmer and the best sportsman.

At the Sleepy Hollow Pool, meanwhile, the members will hold the second family night, including a potluck dinner, folk dancing and swimming.

Sleepy Hollow, just four seasons old, has also delved into the realm of teenaged dances. There have been two junior teenaged dances and one senior already, with another senior dance scheduled later.

Mel Nickerson, who has been helping out at the pool this summer, said the group is planning a Labor Day program for its own members, with competitions slated, but the plans are still indefinite.

TURBO-JETS

A medium-power turbo-jet aircraft engine burns its own weight in petroleum fuel every 20 minutes, according to the National Automobile Club.

ABOUT THREE weeks remain for boys and girls who love to splash about in the shallow pool reserved for them at the Walnut Creek city park. The pool also has a shower type spray that the kids like to assemble under. — Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Undergarments, Trap PH Youth

A clothes line with six "bras" and an alarm system trapped a 15-year-old Pleasant Hill boy, last Friday.

Mrs. Grace Leopard of 121 Hardy Circle, Pleasant Hill, told sheriff's deputies she had been bothered by persons stealing undergarments from her clothes line in the past, so she decided to do something about it.

She put out the "bait," attached a bell to clothes line and waited. The boy, sure enough, showed up and began taking the bras, ringing the bell. Mrs. Leopard called deputies and the boy was taken into custody.

TRADE FAIRS AT TAOS

In the seventeenth century, according to the National Automobile Club, great trade fairs were held at Taos in New Mexico, where goods were exchanged from all over the West.

DANGEROUS

Most of the 65 plastic bag accidents have occurred in cribs, the United States Public Health Service says. They advise against using cast-off bags in cribs or playpens.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

I Didn't Know What Time It Was . . .

LOOK MA, No Hands! cried the kiddies this wk. passing thi burg's Big Ben at t e Underpa . This t.w.s favorite time iece (Wallace Realtor's clock) got a little out of hand so it's in fo. repairs.

We mis ed the clock's friendly face as we sailed in from Aptos & a harrowing drive (for us!) on the Freeway. We sailed in & out again, bask in & now out AGAIN & at this point we look forward to Fall so we can catch up on our REST!

As Mrs. Mabel Moorman so aptly put it—"A vacation isn't a rest. It's a CHANGE!"

No Wonder Jr. can't spell . . . Neither can people who prin ads—like in one store's mailing piece advtg. their "Enducement' sale. On a local restaurant marquee emblazoned in big letters "Weekly Faishon Lunch."

The new Mike Lynn's Restaurant (formerly the Will wa) i owned by the same Irishman who put Pland's Back on t e Map i Oakland. This is the 3rd name change for the Orinda restaurar which over 20 yrs. ago started life as a specialty steak spot named Dominic's.

A Red-Letter Day for Hearts!

VALENTINE'S Day in August? Well, it certainly looked like it over Vallecito Lane w/ hundreds of red hearts trimming the trees, the hedges, the posts & the poles. This was young Laurie Hupp's doing, decking the neighborhood out for the family party held Sun. afternoon at the James Hupp home to announce—(Trumpets, Cherubs are you ready?) The Engagement of one of our Favorites —Lucy Ann Hupp to Buzz Williams. The Betrothed Pair, to wed in the Fall, first met when both were active in the Dramateurs.

The Orinda Park Pool was the setting for a promenade of handsome youngsters in Back To School togs last Fri. Under the sponsorship of the Teenage Club, Ogden's fall fashions were modeled around the pool's edge, starting at 7:30 w/a Water Ballet & Aquacade, which, we regret, we were too tardy to catch.

CLOTHES-Horse Cuties . . . On blonde Wendy Wilcox, a classic blue sweater, a blue-gray plaid wool skirt . . . Ann Lincoln rating Aaah's in a princess-styled yellow dancing frock . . . Our Young Lady doing her first stint in a pair of corduroy bermudas in a new camel shade w/matching paisley print shirt & a pert hat trimmed w/a huge raccoon tassel.

A sailboat tucked under his arm, young Geotty Chapple nifty & neat in a Norwegian-knit sweater & charcoal Ivy League pants . . . Tiny blonde Sherry Hampton all set for the Alps in a tyrolean outfit, black velveteen Lederhosen pants, a white blouse, a black alpine hat, white knee-hose & black velvety pumps.

ON THE SIDELINES . . . The Rollin Moores in a family group applauding their swim-champ dghtr., Patty Lynn, who took her turn w/new styles . . . Blossom Schmidt & her daughters . . . Frank Brush & his son Steve arriving w/their own comfortable director's chairs . . . Barbie Brush modeling so well the classic perennial favorites, sweaters & skirts, as well as a full quilted skirt & vest in shades of wine & green. Robin Roth taking a smiling stroll in camel & red plaid slim-jims w/matching jerkin.

The Tom Wilcoxes (Hazel under a whipped-cream of a white orlon coat) . . . Neil Porter puffing on his pipe . . . Some of the women from the Ladies' Swim Class hugging warm wraps & hot coffee cups after their dip into the water for the Aquacade. Betty Phelan, Mela Fontaine, Anne Bailey, Worth among those deserving a hand!

ON THE LAWN, Bill Lincoln serious over a roadmap w/the Ken Renwicks who put their trip off one day so Linda could take part in the planned Water Show. The couple & their children took off w/trailer on the morrow for Oregon & Washington.

THE OREGAN TRAIL, we're guessing, is just about the most popular destination this year. Another family heading this way were Millie & Cecil Cutting & their youngsters who made sure that their nightly stops included Saddle Horses For Rent nearby. (ESP. to accommodate the young Lady Equestrienne in the family!)

Back to the convenience of her own kitchen after a 3-wk. time of it trailer-wise in the same territory is Jane Jones who did Yellowstone & The Tetons w/her family.

Between You 'n Me 'n the Chickens

Barbara Wayne & her dghtr. are having the fun of feeding some 30,000 hens durin gtheir ranch-stay at Almaden.

Summer trips for Mildred & Scat Laws have incl. Carmel & Las Vegas among other pleasure places . . . The Guido Lanciones drove up to Victoria for a sight-see.

PAT Borbridge & her tots are due back from Tahoe where they leased a house for the month of July w/husband Bill joining the ranks of wknd. commuting husbands.

Young Billy Cooper is the Envy of his pals. He caught a 34 lb. salmon while on vacation in Wash., & had the fish smoked & canned. Now Mama gets the bill for same—$18.00 & he wants to GIVE it away!

TWO FOR THE ROAD in turquoise are medics Burt Brody & Jerry Donchin, Burt w/his new aqua T-Bird & Jerry w/his new aqua Austin-Healey. The latter took his 3 oldest children for a fast spin & swim to Carmel last wknd.

We took our young dghtr. to see the Dramateur's "The Happy Time" currently at the Laf. Town Hall. It was Charming! Lovable & laughable! We only wish we had taken our oldest Son along, too. The Papa's session on the sofa w/his young son Bibi was Touching! Wonderful Lines! We just might make it again tonight w/the 12 yr. old!

The Laf. Town Hall is looking handsome these days. An added attraction to the interior is the photographic exhibition of past plays & characters caught by the camera of Ben Plummer.

Doris Stillson (she & husband Stan had themselves a quick hop to the Islands in June) told us that the building is now ready for an exterior face-lifting.

The Dramateurs, swelling in both size & popularity, offers as much as any of the famous summer theatres in the East. (Who needs Noel Coward!?!)

WHAT they haven't done to the Old Barn in Laf. (if you'll forgive our too-long-used expression)! Why, it's formal & funny, fancy & foolish, a surprise lurking in every corner. The decor, from the gilded mirror bulletin boards to the elegant swagged curtains, is just the right atmosphere. Sets a perfect stage for suburbia's theatre-goers. Downstairs, the floor creaks, the stairs squeak (but not much) & the refreshment bar is always filled w/faces expressing delight at what's been done there. For the current Samuel Taylor comedy, the wall mural depicting scenes & characters was done by Cynthia Knox, principal of Sleepy Hollow School.

And a Happy Time to All . . .

AND last Sat. night, the whimsical touch of frothy garters tied around the supports was the work, wouldn't you guess, of whimsical Wirtabel Harris. Here again was another Gay Touch! We liked it fine & wish them all a long Happy Time in their new home, the Dramateurs!

WIRTABEL, by the way, has been on her own much this summer, but one day last wk. she had Henry, Becky & Hester ALL home together for a record 4 hrs. before Henry took off at 5 a.m. for some fishing. Becky is still unpacking her Island mementoes, many of which she carried, like a female Marco Polo, onto the plane herself after jam-cramming her luggage.

HOME from a 2 mos. stay in Florida is Ruth Clyatt & her 4 . . . They stayed at Fort Lauderdale, Myers Beach & Tallahassee, later meeting Bill in Atlanta when he finished celebrating Equitable Life's Centennial in NYC. All flew home together. Dghtr. Ann attended her summer school sessions at Florida State.

Marge Tesman, another Lady w/a Big Family, took her tribe home to Kansas for a visit. Smed Ambler, son of the Louis Amblers, is currently in Tokyo as a U.S. College representative for an Internat'l Youth seminar.

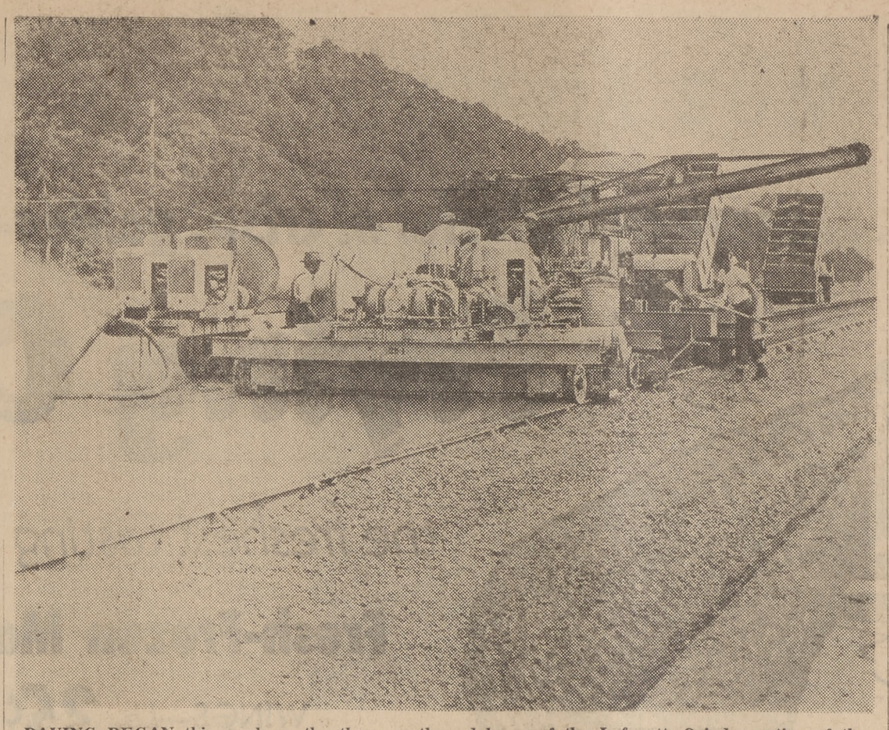
SIGHTEM at Villa San Ramon—Twosome Allie Rasmussen & Agnes Fitzgerald celebrating Agnes' B'day over lunch, Ag's Pal Allie being the Instigator of the Nice Surprise!

Since the arrival of their 6th child in July squelched vacation travel, Yolande Eldred & her medic husband Jim have been among the Smart Ones who've made a Vacation out of staying home. Even w/SIX children! They've enjoyed entertaining at small dinner parties & hosting family swim parties at the Park Pool. Last wknd. their guests were Oakland Atty. Bob Kroninger, his wife Robin & their 4 children. Robin is well known for her work w/the Lawyer's Wives of the East Bay & is in for a busy term as the group's new prexy.

Others recently gathering at the Eldred's for good food & conversation were Architect Dave & Betty Colman, Norman & Jean Portello of Altarinda.

SOMETHING TO see: A showing of Watercolors (many local scenes) by Orinda Architect James Anderson are on display thru Aug. at the Orinda Library.

Helen Kling, who will Chrmn. the Mayten Branch "Bucolic Frolic" is tying up all the loose ends of the party incalico & heading w/her husband & children & the Anthony Yriberris for Montana. They'll be back just in time for the country caper Sept. 12!



PAVING BEGAN this week on the three eastbound lanes of the Lafayette-Orinda section of the freeway. The lanes are expected to be opened about October 1, and with the project slightly ahead of schedule at present, the entire six-lane freeway is pegged for completion by the first of the year. The freeway section will connect the Orinda Crossroads with the present Lafayette Bypass in the vicinity of the El Nido. This photo is looking toward Lafayette.

Midnight Oil Soon Back in Pupil Demand

Contra Costa County's approximately 108,000 public school students will go back to classes soon, some of them to brand new classrooms and playgrounds.

Seven new schools will open this fall and another in the spring. The new buildings represent a total outlay of $4,358,159.

The date of school opening varies according to location. Schools from Pittsburg eastward will open August 31. In the Richmond area and Central Contra Costa County the opening date is September 10.

School districts of the John Swett area will straddle the Admission Day holiday.

Classes will be held for the first time in Contra Costa County's 18th high school, Del Valle, near Walnut Creek. The $1,061,155 structure is the initial unit of the Acalanes Union High School District's fifth school plant.

Two other new buildings will house students at the intermediate level — Adams Junior High School, Richmond, constructed at a cost of $1,155,770, and Mt. Diablo Unified's El Dorado Intermediate School at Concord, costing $732,600.

Elementary schools to open this fall and the cost of construction are as follows:

Rancho Romero, Alamo ($228,041); Merriewood, Lafayette ($296,953); Inland Valley, Orinda ($520,380); Pinole Valley, Pinole ($208,400).

Vista Grande School is under construction at Danville, at a cost of $154,860. Completion is expected by April, 1960.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus said about 4900 teachers and other credentialed employees will be needed to staff the county's schools. This is an increase of 200 over last fall, commensurate with the anticipated increase in enrollment of about 5 per cent.

It is expected an additional 5000 children will attend school this fall, a prediction based on the annual increase for the past several years.

Lafayette School Registration Set September 1 and 2

Registration for pupils new to the Lafayette School District who have not been registered previously, will be held Tuesday, September 1 and Wednesday, September 2, 1959 from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Parents should register at the school in which their children will attend.

In order to be eligible to enter kindergarten, a child must be at least four years and nine months of age as of September 1, 1959. The entrance age for the first grade is five years and nine months as of September 1, 1959.

AT THE time of registration all kindergarten and first grade registrants must present a birth certificate or a transfer from the last school attended.

Only children who have been previously registered, or are already enrolled in classes, will be accepted on the first day of school, Thursday, September 10, 1959.

School Board Will Consider Four Contracts

The awarding of four separate contracts is expected to be the main concern of the board of trustees of the Lafayette School District at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Trustees are scheduled to award contracts for the hauling of refuse, the purchase of musical instruments for schools in the district, furnishing of the district's rototiller and the furnishing of athletic field equipment for the Marywood School.

Other agenda items include the consideration of a subdivision map for Tract 2748, particularly concerning its roads, and the approval of agreements with other districts for instruction of exceptional students.

We'll Pay It, But Which Will Be Best Way?

Believe it or not, we're involved in the middle of a national hassle, and it affects each and every one of us. At least, it affects each of us who drives a car, or has one in the family, and that's pretty universal.

And most of all, it affects our thousands of commuters, who drive extensively. They purchase the most gasoline.

The problem is this: The House Ways and Means Committee has voted a one-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax, effective September 1, to keep the federal inter-state highway program going.

This committee also voted to divert to the highway fund some of the taxes now collected on automobiles and automobile parts into the highway fund rather than the general fund.

THIS ONE-CENT tax would remain in effect for 22 months.

This is the result of a deadlock between the President and Congress. The President has repeatedly asked Congress to increase the gasoline tax 1½ cents a gallon for five years and has opposed any plan to tap the general revenues to beef up the highway program.

How does this affect all of us—especially those of us who drive many miles each day?

In the first place, it is going to cost you more to commute. You can bet that that increased tax will be reflected immediately in the price you pay for gasoline.

ON THE OTHER hand, 22 months is not too long and it sounds like a reasonable program. But the question must be posed, will it be reduced after 22 months? As we all know, once a tax has been imposed, it generally stays.

What do we get for all this? Our state, to say nothing of our county, is far, far behind in its road construction program. When federal funds were cut off because of this stalemate between the President and Congress, the state immediately tabled all plans to advertise for future highway construction. Admittedly, the federal funds would not do a great deal for Contra Costa County—the major portion being the Walnut Creek-Danville highway, which is a part of a federal route.

BUT THE MAJOR roads must be built, elsewhere in the state, and if state money must be diverted to these important projects, then there is that much less for local projects, including a second bore for the Broadway Low-Level Tunnel, an urgent project as any commuter can tell you.

There are obviously points in favor of this compromise program and points against it. If you have feelings on this subject, why not communicate them to your representative, John Baldwin, in Washington. He would certainly appreciate your feelings on the matter.

We feel that diverting part of the excise tax on automobiles and automotive parts to the highway fund is a reasonable procedure. Certainly it is the automobile user who will benefit from this the most.

Then there is the problem of how much the truckers should pay. This always brings screams of protest from the trucking industry which stoutly maintains that it pays far more than its own share already, but there seems reason to doubt that this is entirely true.

It is obvious that the money must come from someplace. We are already at least 20 years behind in our highway construction program and any delay now will just retard necessary construction that much longer.

Why not send your thoughts on this thorny problem to Representative Baldwin. He can be reached at the House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Please, Don't Mention It...

We want to go on record right now—and we feel that this speaks for most of the people of Central Contra Costa County.

We want no part of the proposal of J. Howard Arnold to establish a third transit district to operate in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

In fact, we want to go on record that we don't want to even discuss the proposition. Better yet, if it is going to be discussed at all, leave us out of the discussions. Don't even mention us in connection with this enterprise.

LET US POINT out, hastily, that we are not against rapid transit per se. In fact, it is vital to our area and will become increasingly so as our traffic congestion grows.

But we feel that there is only one feasible solution to our problems — and that is the solution posed by the five-county rapid transit district.

This district, we hope, will solve our major commuting and inter-community transportation problems. We want to back this district with everything we have, and we feel that one way to support it is to keep its purposes and projects clear in the minds of the people, who will have to support it with bond issue and tax fund monies.

The problem is one that vitally affects every commuter. Those who fight long lines of cars and come home to cold lamb chops and unhappy wives and children.

THEY MUST CONTINUALLY ask, how long will it be before we get some adequate rapid, convenient transportation—the kind that will permit me to leave my car at home and arrive at my destination refreshed instead of beat?

That is a question that nobody can answer, but at least there is a great deal of sound engineering behind the five-county district, and plans are now going ahead toward construction of the trans-bay tunnel, an essential link in the system.

But to try and create a third district would only confuse people more and could only result in delay of establishment of the extensive system which we urgently need.

Briefly, Mr. Arnold's idea is to establish an electrically-operated rapid transit system of trains and buses operating in our two counties.

It should be obvious to Mr. Arnold, who is a director of the present Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, that this area wants nothing to do with this kind of transit proposal.

We have just succeeded in fighting our way out of his district, and he wants to establish another which would include us.

Our commuters must be pretty fed up with existing conditions, and it is not hard to imagine what they might think of any move which would further delay the type of rapid transit which they so badly need.

We trust our position is clear.

Where's the Fire, Huh?

By NORMAN COLBY

In California and other states it's a crime to monopolize a party line when someone wants to place an emergency call.

There is another widespread use of the telephone which although not listed as criminal is considered by Contra Costa firemen as a crying shame.

The "criminals" in this case were those people who said, "Let's call the fire department and find out what that smoke is all about," when the George Leoni home caught fire last week.

Pumper trucks and equipment from just about every fire district in the county joined the firefight.

A lone man at the Central District switchboard had a big job.

During those first crucial minutes, after the call came in, he was on the hot seat.

He took messages from truck commanders who were already on the road, relayed orders from station officers to the trucks, requested help from neighboring districts and took their replies, operated the siren calling for volunteer firemen, received new information and radioed it to the men on the road, warned of new fires which developed after the trucks left the firehouse, and coordinated the resulting changes of plans.

During those minutes when a house is saved or lost, he also answered about 40 calls from people in this area who wanted to know, "Where's the fire?" Is it bad? What's the location? Anybody hurt?"—and so forth.

Some of those callers were quite insulted when the fireman didn't have time to pass the time of day.

Some of those callers also didn't bother to notice that there is a "fire call" number and a "business" number, and their curiosity calls sounded the alarm in a firehouse already a bedlam of action and suspense.

Central District Chief Bill Nottingham said, "If they would only wait. They jam the switchboard. They delay the coordination of units already in the field. Minutes and seconds are precious. We would be happy to supply information later on, when we know more about what happened."

He added, "The man on the board during the Leoni fire did a fine job in spite of all this. But it's a frustrating thing when all in the world he should have to worry about is doing his job as quickly as possible."

THIS FELLOW MAY well be in for trouble. When making tire repairs, be sure that the jack is square with the car and the ground. Be sure you are well off the roadway and there is plenty of clearance for passing cars. Put out safety devices to prevent a more serious accident than a flat tire.

The Happy Time for One & All at Happy Aptos . . .

By MARIE MONAHAN

WE ARE home from the Seashore. Just long enough to shake the sand out of our shoes, check the new kittens & the Old Horse. Then we are going back for more of the same.

It was a Happy Time for all concerned at Aptos.

During the week, we three mothers had sixteen (16!) children between us. Also under us, over us, on top of us, all around us & it DOES sound ghastly!

BUT it wasn't!

It was just one big Happy House Party.

ONE day we blew the whole bunch to the Boardwalk at Santa Cruz.

Keeping track of THAT many in this Coney Island atmosphere wasn't easy. We only lost ONE three times. The same One!

This fog-shrouded day we decided to forego the local beach for the Fun House & the Mouse Ride at the famous Playland. We put on heavy sweaters & warm pants, leaving our swim suits at home.

At Santa Cruz, just 5 miles up the line, we nearly died roasting to death!

That is how tempermental the sun is at the seashore.

EVERYBODY vacationing at the seashore is optimistic about the weather.

After a night of foggy precipitation, the morning dawns gray & cold. But off everybody bolts, to the beach, shivering in their shorts & bathing suits. At noon the sky is still overcast. We snuggle down in the sand like the Sandcrabs do.

Everybody brings their canvas chairs & beach umbrellas. It is better to freeze to death in comfort. By all means, don't forget the Coppertone, my dear! Here, try some on your goose-pimples!

Another day we took ten active youngsters up the beach for a brisk hike & picnic lunch. The children carried the food, safari-style. We took three New Yorker mags along anticipating some reading during the sandcastle-building stage that would follow lunch.

HOW Optimistic!

WHEN we returned home 3 hours later we were STILL counting young fry. Ten of 'em. By 2's, 5's, even by ones. Anyway you can count up to (& pray you get) TEN!

That is all we did for 3 solid hours. Five here, 5 over there (That was easy!) Then 2 there, plus 3 in the sand, plus 3 more playing tag, plus 2 buried IN sand.

The only time we got really concerned on such outings was when we returned home with an extra one. Or TWO. Which DID happen several times. We were never very good at arithmetic.

But we would have been much more concerned had we come home with one LESS!

The meals were good & mass-produced. Any recipe was automatically tripled. Six lbs. of hamburg at a sitting. One morning we flipped out 95 buttermilk pancakes. There were No seconds that breakfast!

The Daddies, Grandparents & other houseguests arrived on the weekend for golf & good fun. The children without any adult help, whipped up a wonderful Variety Show. It was So Good they did it to SRO for three nites running.

If you've never heard th eHawaiian version of Red Riding Hood narrated in pidgin English, you've missed something!

ANOTHER popular pastime was Pantomime Quiz, something like Charades. You could tell the tots knew more about Movies & TV than Books. One title came out "December Dragnet" & another young guest yelled his answer "I've got it — HOMER KHAYAM!"

So we're back to Happy Aptos again. For more of the same.

Fog, fun, maybe some sun & of course, the Count to TEN by 2's, 5's, etc!!!

Letters to The Editor

POLIO APPEAL

Dear Editor:

This writer is under the impression that your paper has been furnished publicity material for the proposed emergency drive for Contra Costa Polio patients that is to take place between August 10 through August 24.

I realize that this publicity is extremely hard to understand for most anyone that hasn't been close to the polio problem. This writer has been and if I may, would like to give your paper some financial statistics that I am sure the general public is not aware of.

Through the Contra Costa Chapter for Polio there are more than 300 cases that receive some form of help. Three hundred cases of polio for one county is probably greater than any other county in the United States per capita. Of these 300 polio patients there are about 25 that are very seriously involved cases. Patients that require nurses around the clock. These extreme cases need regular medical and therapy treatment from one to five days each week. To place these patients in a hospital would certainly break down any morale that they may have, and too, it has been proven that it is more economical to keep these patients in their own home than in a hospital. Many of these seriously involved patients are doing their utmost to be self sufficient with the aid of special telephone equipment.

May I quote just one case, and the cost of same. This case concerns my son. There are many more of the same. The National Foundation for Polio has placed in our home more than $18,000 worth of life saving equipment. This includes the iron lung, rocking bed, suction machines, three major pieces of life saving equipment such as a Huxley machine, a Thompson breather and a Multilung, plus many incidentals to make life a little easier for a polio patient.

My son was stricken just three years ago in Eugene, Oregon. Age now 22. The National Foundation for Polio has contributed more than $40,000 for services, hospital and equipment to date. My personal expenditures has been in excess of $32,000, making a total of more than $72,000 in just three years for one polio victim. When and where this expense will stop, no one knows. What behooves me is what many of these 25 seriously involved patients do that have not been able to afford some of the small 'extras' that can be given to a patient. There is no relief in sight for many of these patients and we must depend upon the public for contributions to the Polio Foundation, along with the help of your newspaper to help put this drive across.

Since this is my personal appeal I trust it carries the convictions intended.

HARRY R. DAVIS

P.S. Each County is supposed to be self supporting, however the contributions in the past make up but about one-half of the $135,000 needed each year for Contra Costa County.

PAPAYAS . . .

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Papaya Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, may I express our appreciation for all your excellent cooperation and the newspaper space given to our organization in the past five month period, that I have been appointed their publicity chairman.

As a charter member to the Woman's Auxiliary to John Muir Memorial Hospital, who helped to organize the local Danville-Alamo Tioga Branch, I have voluntarily resigned my former affiliation.

My selection is to put my efforts toward our own local hospital rather than any other hospital away from home. Contra Costa County is the area in which I live and help support by taxes.

May I, at this time, also express my personal thanks for all the years of cooperation your newspaper has shown me for the almost 11 years of sending in copy to you, for the many clubs and organizations for which I have done publicity.

VIRGIE JONES.

Who Did What, When Where, Why, How Come?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The current gambling-vice investigation has been beclouded by many side issues. This usually happens in such an inquiry. Charges, counter-charges, rumors, political considerations, personalities, motives, suspicions — all compete to take the spotlight from the major issues. Sometimes this is done on purpose by those involved.

It is essential, however, that we keep the main problem in focus. We have again attempted to do this on the front page. The facts clearly prove there has been gambling and vice in the county. I repeat this for emphasis.

The personalities, suspicions and politics are most interesting. I asked Bob Rapida to write the background of the case. Bob has interviewed most of the participants and has spent literally weeks on the investigation.

Here is his memo:

Contra Costa's investigation into vice and gambling activities is heading for its sixth week of confusion.

To date little official information has been provided from the five special sessions of the county grand jury concerning the investigation nor the 25 hours of testimony heard by the jurors.

Complicating the investigation are the following facts which have been brought to light:

It was not DA John Nejedly who first went to the attorney general's office with reports of vice and gambling.

It was Ruth Rathke, head of the sheriff's civil division. The sheriff and the district attorney have both asked why she did not go to them. Her information apparently was concerned with the sheriff and obviously she could not report the sheriff to the sheriff.

Long, long trail

Mrs. Rathke, who lives in Alamo, went to Charles Casey, son-in-law of Governor Pat Brown. Casey was formerly on the staff of the California Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation and now works for the California Civil Defense Office.

He arranged for her to present her material to members of the State Attorney General's office. This she did. State investigators then came into the county. Clarence Linn, assistant attorney general, headed the probe.

Linn has confirmed all this, adding that Nejedly thereafter came to their office with the exact set of vice and gambling charges. Presumably at that point, Nejedly joined the investigation.

Another story, however, reports that Nejedly went to the Attorney General's office for help when he reportedly was offered a $150,000 bribe. (See page 1) Then, he was told about the investigation by Linn.

Then the rains came

Not long after, newspapers broke the story. The officials talked. Everyone knew everything about everything. This was probably premature and hurt the investigation.

A matter of conjecture is what progress has been made to substantiate these and other charges by the attorney general's office and its three investigators, as well as the district attorney and the grand jury.

A tape recording plays a key part in the investigation of the bribe offer. The contents of this recording are unknown, but it has been stated it is a wire-tap recording of a telephone conversation.

The D.A. has stated gambling is a $7 to $8 million a year venture in Contra Costa County. The district attorney reportedly was offered $150,000 to keep quiet about gambling and vice in the county. This led to an indictment Tuesday afternoon by the grand jury.

And a lot more . . .

Side issues have also played havoc with persons trying to determine the fate of the vice and gambling probe.

Linn threatened to take over the sheriff's and the district attorney's offices unless the sheriff revealed his secret investigators.

Nejedly was on vacation last week in the high Sierra and was called by the sheriff's office to determine whether the sheriff had to reveal the names.

Nejedly said, "No."

Then Richard Rogan, chief deputy state attorney general, was phoned by Undersheriff Harry Ramsay in Los Angeles as to whether the sheriff had to turn over the investigators' names. Again, the answer was no, according to Sheriff Young. (Rogan had apparently received some misinformation as to Linn's status.)

The search continues . . .

Linn, nonetheless, continued his search for the investigators. (He even had reporters questioned to determine if they were the sheriff's investigators.)

Linn now claims that his own investigators turned up the names of the sheriff's undercover men.

Another problem is what exactly has Deputy Sheriff Marvin Dickenson stated about the new vice detail. He originally was reported as saying it won't work.

Dickenson was appointed last week to the vice squad by the sheriff along with Cliff Avery. Neither of the men has been to work since the appointment. Both are off sick, according to sheriff's reports.

Yes, no, maybe so . . .

Dickenson was quoted as saying he told Linn all about the vice detail and why it won't work. Linn says he never had the conversation with Dickenson.

Dickenson isn't talking now on orders from Undersheriff Ramsay; Dickenson isn't signing any statements or making any reports to the sheriff on orders from Linn.

Meanwhile, Stanley Mosk, state attorney general, said, "Linn is in charge of the investigation."

But, two days later, Mosk appointed Charles A. O'Brien as chief assistant attorney general, division of criminal law and enforcement. Linn held this post under former Attorney General Pat Brown.

O'Brien was inside the closed doors of the grand jury court room Tuesday in Martinez.

Asked why he was there, O'Brien said he was being "filled in on the background of the entire case, but Linn is still in charge."

In effect, Linn is fronting the investigation but it is being guided by O'Brien. This is an entirely new and fascinating story.

More next week!

Highway Patrol, City PD Nines to Clash for 'Kids'

Contra Costa members of the California Highway Patrol and Concord Police will trade in their officers' hats for baseball caps as they go to bat to help boost even higher the Kallemeyn Kids Fund.

A benefit softball game pitting the two law enforcement agencies will be staged at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Mt. Diablo High School Football Stadium in Concord.

Admission will be by $1 donation and all proceeds will go to the fund established for the four children of Highway Patrolman George Kallemeyn, who died of injuries suffered in the crash of his motorcycle.

Game umpires will be Captain Russell Magill, Contra Costa CHP commander, Concord Police Chief Ron Orin and Concord Municipal Judge Louis J. McKannay.

Arrangements for the benefit are being headed up for the Highway Patrol by Sergeant Orin Camenish and for Concord Police by Lieutenant John Huddleston.

Rod's Revokes

Ask Mrs. Alford . . . It's Even Easier Than Pie!

On a recent Thursday evening, Mrs. Lee Alford of Orinda walked into the Happy Valley Inn to play her first game of duplicate bridge.

She had heard of the game before but hadn't had the opportunity to come in and play. Finally after some urging from a friend, she consented to give it a try.

After the game was over, she came up to me with a perplexed look on her face. "I always throught duplicate was a game for experts; but I didn't have any trouble keeping up with most all of them. On top of this, I also had a good time," she said.

I think many people have the misconception that duplicate-style bridge is only for experts. Nothing could be further from the truth. I cordially invite all of you to come down to the Happy Valley Bridge Club some Thursday evening. Be sure to come a few moments early so we can become acquainted.

The banner event of the bridge year is now almost upon us. The All-Western Regional Contract Bridge Championships will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco from September 2-7. Can you think of a more wonderful place in which to play bridge?

In addition to the championship events there will be secondary and junior championships every afternoon and evening. If that isn't enough, morning events and midnight sessions will be held on certain days for those who haven't satisfied their bridge thirst during the regular sessions.

In 1958 the attendance reached a staggering 2,414 tables and it is expected to shoot close to the 3,000 mark this year.

How many times have you and your partner held heated discussions (?) about a particular hand and still never agree on how it should have been played or bid? If you're like me, then there have no doubt been quite a few of them. Do you want to ring in a third party?

If so, just drop me a line c/o The Sun or call me in the evenings. I'll be glad to give you my opinion for whatever it might be worth.

Happy Valley Bridge Club results, August 13:

North-South—1. Lorna Barber, Irene Hensley, Walnut Creek; 2. Frank Nelson, Oakland, Jack Puckett, Concord; 3. Katherine Mullins, Concord, Ted Reed, Martinez.

East-West — 1. Bill Cecil, Joe Castro, Walnut Creek; 2. K. L. Powlesland, Joe Anderson, Walnut Creek; 3. Jean Michell, Janet La Rocque, Pleasant Hill.

PLASTIC BAGS

Although the street or the family drive-way is the most hazardous spot for children between the ages of one and four, plastic bags mis-used as toys have claimed several lives in this age-group thus far in 1959. Cast-off plastic bags should be torn up or tied in knots for safe disposal in the trash can, the Society of the Plastics Industry recommends.

Sports Interest Changes From Diamond to Gridiron

By ERWIN MATTSON

The weather isn't the only thing that has changed in the past week—the interest in sports has turned, in part at least, to the pigskin sport.

Football is in the air—the pros, as usual, have started active play, while preps are turning their thoughts, time and energies to the game of football, which will soon be under active way as far as they are concerned.

INTEREST IS STILL keen in baseball, what with the Giants still hanging on to the top spot in league standings, and the possibility of a World Series coming to San Francisco.

The baseball picture has been somewhat dimmed by the hassle between the stadium construction officials, the city powers and the architect over who pays for what in the completed construction.

It appears definite the stadium won't be completed, but unless the Giants tighten their belts and get the essential good brand of ball going that is necessary for a champ to reach the pennant stage, it won't seem so important as it appears to be right now.

IN ORDER TO win in any sport, as in most everything else in life, one has to get a certain number of breaks along the line.

The Giants have had some good ones, but look to be getting some bad ones now—at a time that is crucial.

The one who will come in for a lot of attention in the closing weeks is Manager Bill Rigney, in whom many take a personal interest because he is a local resident, living as he does in Walnut Creek.

BILL HAS HAD to make a lot of moves—some have worked out and some haven't.

As per usual, hindsight is a great thing and second guessing a favorite game for those who follow the sport.

Diablo Valley Opens Grid Play September 19

Diablo Valley College will open its grid season September 19 with the game against Oakland City College under the lights at Las Lomas Field in Walnut Creek, but there remains much to be done between now and then.

A new coaching regime means the installation of a new system and until practice actually gets under way no one will know for sure what players will be on hand.

GEAR WAS first issued last Monday and will be issued each Monday, Wednesday and Friday between 10 a.m. and noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Physical examinations are set for Wednesday, August 26, and Thursday, August 27, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The examinations will be given in the administration building and all candidates should be on hand to take them.

Discipline Is Key in Good Form for Golf Game

By NEIL N. RUSSELL
P.G.A. Instructor

As I pointed out in my first detailed description of what a pupil must learn to do, fundamentally, he must discipline himself to this physical exercise. Assuming you have practiced the body turning, let us carry on from the address position.

As you begin to make the body turn io the right the arms will move with the shoulders, and at a point somewhere about the level of your hips, the arms will begin their movement straight up, until they reach the three quarter position, and the club head begins to fall over and backward, thereby establishing the wrists to fully cock. This position is strictly preparatory for what is about to take place: viz, the downward movement.

It is at this position where most of the golfer's mistakes are made. To avoid such errors, simply try and reverse the body to the left, while your arms remain sort of suspended, but as your body returns in like manner and without interference, you will find that the arms begin to follow the body, until they reach the level of the hips again; it is at this like position that the right hip is brought into the back of the ball, while the right shoulder remains behind and the clubhead is free to swing on its own weight through the ball.

The wrists should remain fully cocked and still, until nature relieves them to action with definite results.

In your practice habits let me say, turn your eyes on this reversal and watch how nature works for you. You will note very quickly that your body begins to turn while actually the arms just completing their upward movement.

This is the main reason why the arms sort of lag and follow the body until again your natural action takes place about the same level of the hips.

It is at this point you realize how the right side of the body is brought into action. Note, your right shoulder will remain backward while the right hip moves aropnd (as we say) into the back of the ball.

During this short but exacting reversal movement, your hands have remained still until nature releases them correctly, and at the right moment.

If you have trouble interpreting this basic action, see your professoinal.

This whole, one piece movement can be taught very simply. Given the correct information, and with a willingness to practice, how can you fail to improve?

You will note that I have said nothing about the golf club, always about your own flesh and blood. What I do hope for, is, that you find out first hand how you propel a clubhead thro' a golf ball, this I must admit can only be brought into complete action when your thinking has the proper picture in your minds eye. The brain will then put the whole conception of the movement into action.

Next week I will try and help you to help yourself by positive thinking. I call it mental therapy.

The Boys Club of the East Bay erea will help purchase that much needed athletic equipment. This work isaccomplishing wonders and thanks to warm hearted, kind, humans like Don Doten.

Leroy Gevig Takes Second Dash on Contra Costa Oval

Petaluma's Pride, LeRoy Gevig took his second 25 lap main in a row last Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway.

The big blond haired driver, who is now a leading contender in the BCRA point race, has developed an aggressive style of driving, closely akin to San Francisco's Julian Castro. And, good, bad or indifferent, this style is getting him to the top quickly.

COMING IN SECOND in the main event was Bill Maher of Vallejo. Third was Alameda's Lew Lawson, followed by Ted Montague of Castro Valley.

Winning the semi-main event was this year's champion, Wally Baker, who is steadily losing ground in his battle to maintain his crown. Close on his heels for second spot was Ed Lopus, followed by Ray Kelsey and Steve Mentch.

PeeWee Waybright, of Oakland, out with a brand new car after his spectacular smashup against the pit wall two weeks ago, had nothing but trouble on his hands during the entire program of racing.

He was involved in three separate accidents, going through the fence in one, and causing the wrecks of five other cars in another. The smash occurred when Waybright flipped going into the pit turn, with the other five onrushing cars directly behind him.

Your Garden

Mark Planting Date Now To Assure Winter Color

Color for Christmas is only a dream with gardeners in most of the United States.

In California, however, it's a dream come true. Not merely color from shrubs or potted plants—though we have that too, but the riotous color that comes only from annuals—color which no greenhouse in a colder climate can imitate.

FOR ALL THIS, Yuletide color is often lacking and, when it is, you can bet the gardener failed to act soon enough to achieve it. Or he didn't act at all.

Soon enough means now in coastal California gardens or next month at the latest. Inland, it means later next month or early October.

To meet the deadline, mark a day on your calendar and make sure you plant before it. When in doubt, check with California Association of Nurserymen members to determine a good date.

PLANTING ITEM number one is winter sweet peas, and they should go in this month in those mild winter areas that bring the best out in them.

Be sure you plant WINTER sweet peas and follow the traditional method of preparing a deep trench with a layer of manure at the bottom and the seed five or six inches above it.

IF YOU wish to use a soil fumigant as you would in preparing a lawn seed bed, start three weeks in advance of whatever date you've circled on your calendar. It will kill both weeds and weed seed in the area covered, saving you much time and trouble later on.

And when you get around to planting, keep in mind that a contrast of colors is what you want.

For winter, you can count on the yellows and oranges of calendula, the multi-colors of pansies, snaps or winter stocks; the pure yellows, tangerines, blues and whites of violas; the brilliance of Iceland poppy or cineraria and the delicate shadings of fairy primroses.

You can count on them, that is, if you mark a planting date on your calendar and be sure you get them in the ground before that date goes by.

Survey Shows 5-County Transit Dist. Approved

The rapid transit program proposed by the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District is overwhelmingly favored by those who learn about it.

A large majority favor their community paying its fair share of the cost of such a system.

An even larger majority—about 90 per cent—believe traffic congestion will increase without rapid transit.

These are the key findings of a scientific fact-finding survey conducted by the five-county district to help determine current public attitudes concerning various aspects of the district's program.

A preliminary report on the major findings of the survey was made to the district's board of directors at its meeting in San Francisco today.

GENERAL MANAGER John M. Peirce described the results as "very encouraging." He said the mass of data developed by the survey will be an "invaluable guide and working tool for the district in the months ahead."

Major findings of the poll as reported to the transit board were as follows:

The rapid transit program as proposed is overwhelmingly favored by those who learn about it.

A majority of all respondents, 55 per cent, claimed to have noticed something about the proposed plan recently, with the great majority of these observers mentioning newspapers as their source.

Only 21.6 per cent of all respondents said they have formed an opinion about the proposed plan prior to the survey. Of those who had formed an opinion, however, 84.5 per cent favored it.

AFTER READING a brief explanation of the transit plan and the possible bond issue required of as much as $700 million, a majority of 72.7 per cent of all respondents said they favored it. Only 5.1 per cent opposed it, and 22.2 per cent were undecided. The fast transportation, decreased highway congestion, safety and decreased parking congestion were the features most often mentioned as particularly liked by those favoring the plan.

After reading further information about the plan, predicted population growth, automobile congestion and freeway plans, the number of respondents favoring rapid transit increased to 79 per cent.

This is well over a two-thirds majority in all counties. At this stage of the interview, 16.2 per cent remained undecided and 5.2 were opposed.

In another question concerning rapid transit's relationship to freeways, 87 per cent of all respondents favored completion in some way of the proposed rapid transit system. Of this total, 72 per cent favored completion of rapid transit in coordination with the freeway program, and an additional 15 per cent favored its completion independently of the freeway program.

AMONG THE FIVE per cent opposing rapid transit, the paramount dislike was the expense of the bond issue and resultant taxes.

Respondents were told that according to preliminary studies fares from the proposed system would pay only about one-half of the cost of the system. About 61 per cent said they would be in favor of their community paying its fair share of half of the system cost, while 18.7 remained undecided.

About 20.5 per cent were opposed, objecting mostly to any increase in taxes.

About 92 per cent of all respondents said they traveled some place on the routes which would be served by the proposed rapid transit system.

OF THIS NUMBER, 54 per cent said rapid transit of the type described would induce them to change from their present modes of travel. The time saved and added freedom of movement were the outstanding reasons given, but the relaxation, convenience and reduced expense also were important.

About 35 per cent said they would not use rapid transit, and 10.5 per cent did not know if they would use the facilities.

Dislike of waiting, slowness, indirect routes, poor station locations and a consequent preference for driving were the outstanding reasons city by respondents for not using present transit facilities.

Lack of adequate transit was mentioned most often in Contra Costa and San Mateo counties.

Among those respondents using present transit facilities, infrequent schedules, or no schedules, were the main reasons for unfavorable comment. Slowness and overcrowding were next most often mentioned.

ABOUT 65 PER cent of the respondents said they thought rapid transit would help the growth of their community, and only 2.1 per cent said it would hinder growth.

About 90 per cent believed that traffic congestion will increase without the proposed system.

From a standpoint of additional benefits of the system, "driving safety" was considered of primary importance by about three out of every four respondents. Second in a listing of additional benefits was the "opportunity to relax" while traveling and third was the possible use of rapid transit underground facilties for civil defense shelter.

OF THOSE WITH cars in the family more than 41 per cent said they would leave their cars at home "usually," or "often" if rapid transit were available. Only 21 per cent said they would never leave their cars at home, and many of these said they use their cars for business reasons.

The survey was conducted for the district by the opinion research firm of Facts Consolidated. Professional interviewers conducted a total of 1,700 interviews throughout the five counties.

A sample of 1700 was used to permit a breakdown of attitudes on certain key questions on a county-by-county basis. Had the district desired merely to gauge opinions on a district-wide basis, a much smaller sample could have been used.

Interviewing for the survey was conducted in Bay Area homes from February 13 through April 30.

Rossen is Crescent's New Manager

Hans Rossen, a 15 year veteran in the jewelry business, has accepted the managership of Crescent Jewelry, 1443 Broadway, in the Broadway Shopping Center.

He said, "I hope to meet the people in this area, whether or not they are interested in jewelry at this time. This is my first rsidence in the Bay Area and it is a wonderful experience."

Rossen was store manager for a large Seattle jewelry business which had 28 branch stores, and also managed stores for that company in Washington and Idaho.

He was born in Breslau, Germany, was educated there, came to the United States in 1938, and returned to Germany during World War II as an infantryman and interpreter for a mountain troop outfit. He served for five years.

If your aim is for...

A BETTER HOME IN A BETTER LOCATION...

There are several Osmundsen Homes now being built that can be completed to your specifications.

Even when buying an Osmundsen Home that is well on its way toward completion . . . there is no need to settle for anything less than exactly what you want!

Unlike the ordinary "Ready-Built" home, the partially-completed Osmundsen Home will be finished entirely to your specifications.

And—contrary to common belief—the home finished to your specifications in the Osmundsen way usually costs no more than the "Ready-Built" home!

Now is the time to see how much fun it is to have an existing, partially-completed Osmundsen Home finished the way you really want it!

Fallout Shelter Study Outlined

The results of the Radioactive Fallout Shelter Study in Contra Costa County was presented to the board of supervisors yesterday.

Contra Costa County was one of four areas in the country selected by the Federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization for research purposes, as a sample of the county as a whole.

Started in April, this study is the first to be completed.

Under the direction of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, the survey was made by the firm of Robert E. Alexander & Associates of Los Angeles, who set up an office in Martinez with Don Stofle as project engineer.

Will H. Perry Jr., director of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense and Disaster, presented the summary to the board from information supplied him by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

PLEASE KEEP ON THE GRASS!

Confucius say: Man who irrigate sidewalk, harvest fancy water bill. "East Bay MUD" say: Heed these simple tips, and you'll achieve maximum lawn beauty at minimum water cost:

First, don't water too often, or your lawn will develop a shallow root system. Second, when you do water . . . say, once or twice a week . . . give a good, deep soaking. This is especially important this year, since your lawn got only a spattering of rain last winter. (Needless to say, what goes for lawns, goes double or triple for deep-rooted trees and shrubs.)

Third, about that sprinkler of yours. Learn to use it so your lawn gets watered evenly. If you don't, you'll end up with part bog, part desert. Both conditions encourage weeds.

And finally . . . heed old Confucius. Don't water the driveway, street or sidewalk. People walking by will appreciate it. So will your lawn. And, eventually, your pocketbook.

Booklets on water? Absolutely free.

Orindans Among Lincoln Grads

Two Orindans were among the 18 Bay Area residents who composed the 34th annual graduation class of Lincoln University, a pioneer school in San Francisco, according to Dr. Benjamin F. Lickey, president.

Reginald R. Armando, 60 Valencia Road, and Jerome C. Utz, 22 Warford Terrace, were among those honored at graduation ceremonies Sunday in the Calvary Presbyterian Church, San Francisco.

THE UNIVERSITY conducts new classes in law and the liberal arts and specializes in refresher courses for students who may have failed to pass the State Bar examination.

Abe Dresow, San Francisco's chief deputy public defender, was principal speaker at the exercises, and other participants were Dean Jerome Sack and Thomas Pierce Rogers, former dean and now academic vice president.

James Jentges Hired as Orinda Schools Manager

James Edward Jentges, 44, has been employed as business manager for the Orinda Union School District.

Jentges, who has just completed three years as consultant for school plant maintenance and engineering for the San Bernardino County superintendent of schools office, was hired by the board of trustees during closed personnel sessions last week.

ALTHOUGH HE will not be formally elected to the post by the board until its September meeting, Jentges will begin work Monday.

District Superintendent Joseph Sheaff reported Jentges, who has spent most of his life in Wisconsin, was hired from a field of nine applicants. He is the district's first manager.

A veteran of World War II service with the Army Air Corps, Jentges was graduated from the Wisconsin State College with bachelor's and master's degrees in education.

HE TAUGHT business education in a Wisconsin high school from 1946 to 1950, then served as an elementary and high school principal and head of a school business department in the same area until 1954.

From 1954 to 1956 he attended Stanford University on an education fellowship, and at the same time was a graduate assistant for Stanford's school planning laboratory.

Jentges received a doctorate in education, with emphasis in school business management and school planning, from Stanford University in June 1956, and was employed in San Bernardino since then.

Arabian Night Theme For Lombardy Branch Dance

Aladdin and his magic lamp, and a soaring trip on a flying carpet will set the mood of "An Arabian Night" when Lombardy Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay holds its annual barbecue and dance at the Orinda Country Club on September 19.

A tremendous tent will be placed on the lawn area and the lagoon-shaped pool will be illuminated with torches and bordered with potted palms to simulate an oasis setting.

Members of Lombardy and their husbands will be appropriately garbed a la "Kismet" with the ladies wearing baubles, bangles, beads and veils and the men donning fezzes and turbans.

Although the menu will be highlighted with barbecued steaks, the evening repast will be climaxed with the serving of an authentic Turkish dessert, Baklava, a delicious confection of honey, nuts and wafer-thin pastry.

Posters from various Arabian countries will adorn the inside of the tent to remind the guests of the day of Saladin, shahs and sheiks.

During the cocktail hours Middle and Near Eastern melodies will be amplified throughout the park-like area, bringing to mind visions of courtyards with fountains playing, the odours of musk and incense, and the fascinating mysteries of these ancient countries.

Heading the entire arrangements for this gala affair is Mrs. Edward Law, Jr., who has the following assisting: Reservations, Mrs. Ronald Kersh, and decorations, the Mesdames Mark Snover, Gerald Awes and William McGuire.

Tickets and further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Milo Spaich, CL 4-2482, or Mrs. Leon Paul, CL 4-2634.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Contra Costa, State of California, has on the 11th day of August, 1959, in regular meeting, adopted a resolution by two-thirds (2/3) vote of all of its members, declaring its intention to sell for the County of Contra Costa the vacant real property described therein and located on the southerly side and westerly terminus of Avenida de Orinda, in the Orinda area, containing 14,130 square feet, more or less, of which an easement, approximately 6,057 square feet is reserved to the County for slope and drainage.

Upon opening of bids at the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors on said 15th day of September, 1959, and announcing the same, any person present may offer orally to increase the amount of the highest written bid by at least Five Hundred Dollars ($500) and to continue thereafter to bid orally in amount of not less than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) each time until the highest oral bid is finally accepted.

Acalanes' Fourth School Opens in Fall With 175

The fourth Acalanes High School plant, Del Valle High, will open for its first 175 pupil freshman class this September.

Construction on the first units for the school started in the spring of 1958. Initial units ready for the opening of school this fall include a complete gymnasium for a full four year high school program; two classroom wings with fourteen classes including 3 for home economics and 4 for business education; administrative offices; counseling quarters; general storage; and a library and storage facility.

According to Acalanes District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons, plans are being completed for the next building unit which will house science and arts and crafts rooms. Bids will be called for within the month and construction will start thereafter to insure completion by September of 1960.

The initial units and site grading for Del Valle cost $969,300. The structure features steel framed edifice with adjustable partitions for future modification and stresses "economy and functional design."

A total staff of eleven will direct the school program for its first year. Heading the staff are William Ross, principal, former dean of boys at Miramonte High and head counselor at Acalanes High; Bruce Handley, dean of boys, formerly head counselor at Acalanes; and Donna Riley, dean of girls, former counselor at Miramonte and prior to that a dean of girls at Elkgrove.

As the original 175 freshmen are promoted to succeeding grades other lower classmen will fill in the grades under them. In 1960-61 Del Valle will have an estimated 400 enrollment.

Broadway Stores Open Two Nights

Stores in the Broadway Shopping Center are open Monday and Friday nights, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Broadway merchants remain open until nine on both nights during the week, so that shopping is made even easier for residents," Webster added.

"Stores, during the Broadway Back to School celebration, will be open six days a week, including Monday and Friday nights, so that everyone will be able to stock up on back to school needs," Webster concluded.

Skipper Sedley To Appear at Broadway Center

Skipper Sedley, seen on TV every day by a half million persons, will be at the Broadway Shopping Center today for two shows.

With Skipper Sedley will be King Fuddle, the Think-A-Tron Hat, Clinker and Clunker, Ferocious Freddie, Willie the Whale and other favorites of the children.

Skipper Sedley has the third highest rated show in Northern California and will be on hand for the annual Broadway Back to School Celebration.

The back to school celebration, from today to September 5, will feature a drawing for a pony, saddle and three months' board.

Back to School Time at Eager Beaver Thrift Shop

Summer vacation is coming to a close and school will soon be starting. So it is clothes time for tots and teens.

The Eager Beavers' Thrift Shop at 3437 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette is ready with "classmates" of plaids and pleats, sweaters and smart fall dresses for the little women in the family.

SLACKS, SPORT shirts, jeans and jackets for the young men. Some narrow belts, too, that they really "dig."

School time naturally makes us think of books. So we shall be featuring books of all kinds, all over the shop.

Text books, fiction, history, children's books, even cook books, as a sample of what we have.

COME AND be a browser. For book collectors we have some treasures in old, old books; National Geographics are on hand at all times for reference materials.

Memo to Moms: If your summer wardrobe has that tired, droopy look, come in and see some of the good buys that will give you a lift these last hot days of summer into fall. You don't have to look like the last rose of summer.

High Raw Wool Costs Blamed
A WALL STREET JOURNAL News Roundup
High raw wool costs are kicking off the third round of wholesale carpet price increases in six months.
James Lees & Sons Co., a carpet industry leader, announced at its Bridgeport, Pa., headquarters that it will raise prices 2% to 4% on wool carpets on June 15, when the big Chicago Home Furnishings Market opens. It said the boost will apply to the entire wool line, both all-wool carpets and rugs in which wool is blended with other fibers.
In New York, Steele W. Winterer, president of A. & M. Karagheusian, Inc., another big carpet maker, said "it is our intention" to raise prices on "many" carpets for the Chicago market opening. Details, he said, will be announced then.
Lees said its increase is "necessitated by rising costs of carpet wools in the past few months," and Mr. Winterer blamed the prospective Karagheusian rise on "higher raw material costs."

2 Men Convicted In Sex Assaults

In the Superior Court of Wakefield Taylor, a jury returned guilty verdicts against 2 Oakland men on a total of 7 charges of sexual assault August 12.

After six days of trial and seven hours of deliberation, a jury of seven women and five men found Earl Albert Nelson, 22, truckdriver, of Oakland, guilty of one count of statutory rape, two counts forcible rape and one count of sodomy and Rudolph Vanden Broek, 22, Oakland, guilty of one count of statutory rape, two counts of forcible rape.

The charges arose out of incidents that occurred on the night of April 19 on the slopes of Mt. Diablo.

The defendants had previously met two girls, ages 18 and 16 in an East Oakland neighborhood. The victims made immediate complaint to the San Leandro Police Department April 20.

In the verdict of the jury as delivered by Foreman Frank N. Gomes, 1630 Barnett Circle, Lafayette, it was recommended that on the one count of statutory rape punishment be by imprisonment in the County Jail for both defendants.

David J. Levy, acting assistant district attorney, in his closing argument, hammered the importance of the jury's duty to show persons intent on committing crimes that they should not come into the remote areas of Contra Costa County and that the outcome of this case would have considerable effect upon the community of East Oakland where the defendants and victims reside.

Judge Taylor, referred the matter to the Probation Officer for a report and the time of sentencing is set for September 8.

Free Pencils at Broadway Center

Thousands of free pencils will be distributed during the Broadway Shopping Center Back to School celebration, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The celebration will continue in the shopping center through September 5 and will feature, in addition to special sales events, the appearance of TV's famous Skipper Sedley, Webster added.

Also to be awarded during the Broadway Back to School celebration will be a pony, saddle and three months board to some lucky child, Webster concluded.

Elementary School Crowd Waiting for School Start

On the eve of returning to school, most young fry have trouble getting to sleep. It's understandable—after all, did any youngster ever watch a Summer vacation vanish into the thin Fall air without feeling let down?

But no matter how their spirits may droop awaiting the opening bell of the new school year, the appearance of the elementary school crowd will suffer no letdown this Fall.

The dressed-right look favored by boys in recent terms is now more solidly established than ever before, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Young men from the ages of six to thirteen will sparkle in their new school duds, generally favoring natural shoulder suits and sports jackets even though some of their Dads and older brothers may be swinging over to the newer Continental models.

Of course, the casual styling of the Ivy models is perhaps better adapted for the youngsters than the more sophisticated Continentals but, boys being boys, there will undoubtedly be some who will want to imitate their elders. For such aspiring lads, some Continentals will be available.

HOWEVER, regardless of their choice of model, the young fellows will be more comfortable and more sensibly turned out in suits and sports jackets.

The fabrics are lighter in weight although dark to medium in color. These lighter weight fabrics will be most popular in pure worsteds and worsteds that have been blended with man-made fibers. As a result, they can be woven without bulk while maintaining good solid wearability.

Among the newer boys' wear fabrics in suits and sports jackets are hopsacking which will complement the Fall scene with shades of gray, olive green, blue and brown. Small pinchecks and muted plaids will cut into the popularity of solid shades and stripes this year.

IN SPORTS JACKETS, the blazer is still one of the most popular items in the well dressed youngster's wardrobe. Navy, of course, is the top color, but grays, scarlets, maroons, greens and stripes are very much in favor, too. Burnished tones of brown, black, blue and gray will be woven in sports jacket stripes as well as subtle plaids and checks.

As the days grow shorter, active school boys will need an outer-coat and an excellent choice would be a fleecy loden-type with a parka hood or, perhaps, a cotton shell coat with a zip-in liner of man-made fleece.

His dressier slacks will be in the plaid-front unpleated Ivy style with flapped hip-pockets. He may also want a pair or two of the Continental slacks with slim legs and angled front pockets. Mothers will like these slacks in wash-wear flannels as well as in all-wool flannel and hopsacking.

For playtime wear, heavyweight polished cottons and bedford cords fill the bill. Corduroys and lined chinos and tough Western jeans are good choices, too.

To Be Honored At Demo Picnic

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Glenn Anderson will be among the honored guests September 6, at Castle Rock Park, one mile east of Walnut Creek.

This will be the Lieutenant Governor's first scheduled public appearance in the East Bay since the 1958 elections.

THE OCCASION is an all-day picnic sponsored by the Contra Costa County Federation of Democratic Clubs, honoring labor on its holiday weekend. Federation President Fred Wrazel, Walnut Creek, has previously announced that State Controller and Mrs. Alan Cranston will also be present.

State Senator George Miller, Jr., and Assemblyman S. C. "Brick" Masterson and Jerome Waldie are honorary co-chairmen of the affair.

The full recreational facilities of the park, including the swimming pool and dancing pavilions, have been leased for the picnic.

Mrs. Russell Koch, Pleasant Hill, picnic co-ordinator, said that people prominent in local labor circles have indicated their enthusiastic support of the affair, and will promote ticket donations through their labor groups.

Mrs. Antonio Silva, Concord, is ticket chairman.

Christmas Is Early at TB Headquarters

"It's not the temperature, it's the activities that makes it feel like Christmas" at the Pleasant Hill headquarters of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Thirty-two million of the 1959 Christmas Seals were delivered to Mrs. George Chapman of Antioch, Christmas Seal chairman.

The Christmas Seals will be mailed to all Contra Costa County residents on November 16. Funds contributed are used by the association for the prevention and control of TB.

Mrs. W. R. Zenk and Mrs. Chapman were ready to unpack the Christmas Seal supplies as they were delivered.

"It takes a Christmas Seal on holiday mail to make it feel like Christmas, and the big job of getting the traditional Christmas Seal mailing ready is done entirely with volunteer help," Mrs. Zenk, county volunteer chairman, said.

"The assistance given by these generous friends of the association saves the association hundreds of dollars and thousands of hours of staff time. These precious commodities are then put where they do the most good—into TB control activities."

An urgent appeal was made this week for volunteers to help with correcting the mailing list files in preparation for the Christmas Seal Sale.

Saxe Speaks To Builders

Jules Saxe of San Francisco, spoke at a general contractors association of Contra Costa County dinner meeting at the El Nido Restaurant yesterday.

His topic was, "Secondary financing and trade-ins as it applies to the builder."

High Schoolers Seem More Fashion Alert Than Ever

High schoolers seem more alert to new fashion ideas than either college men or the grade school set.

By and large, collegians are bound by tradition to well established standards of dress while the elementary school group has not yet arrived at an age where their clothing preferences are given too much consideration.

BUT, THE HIGH school set has a situation permitting much more freedom of expression. First of all, they are at an experimental age.

Secondly, many of them have incomes of their own.

And third, though they do follow the leads of their older brothers in college to a considerable extent, high schoolers are not nearly as conscious of the traditions involved in certain dress habits or as dedicated to their continuation.

The high school set's greater freedom of expression, notes the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, is apparent in the way they have taken to some of the Continental styles and detailing in their suits, sportswear and outerwear.

Of course, many of the Continental features have been modified to meet their own particular needs. For example, the high school boy does not generally wear Continental-type jackets in the shorter model for the very god reason that lads of his age are apt to sprout up overnight and a short jacket is more likely to be taken for last season's garment than this season's fashion trend.

However, in slacks the tapered leg worn with or without cuffs, the side buckles, the self-supporting waistband treatments and sharply angled front pockets have been accepted wholeheartedly by some of the teen-agers.

Many, however, refuse to budge from their Ivy-styled jackets and slacks. These fellows have discarded the buckled back straps in favor of flapped back pockets and they like their slacks cut with a low rise.

IN OUTERWEAR, the Continental trend is itself important in longer coats in both single- and double-breasted versions, shawl collars, and both fur trims and knit trims.

Many of these outerwear garments will be worn with Ivy-styled outfits, too. Supplementing these are the very popular car coats, suburban coats and duffle coats.

These vary from cotton shells lined with wool or quilting to fleecy loden-type fabrics, some of which reverse to poplin or gabardine sides.

The Continental dress shirts favored by the high school crowd are made with cuffs about one-inch narrower than heretofore and tapered bodies.

They are slightly longer in length, a feature that helps keep them neatly in the trousers.
